CANADIAN RECIPROCITY AND FARMERS' FREE LIST ADOPTED BY DEMOCRATS

BRYAN SCORES A VICTORY BY ACTION OF THE CAUCUS

The Farmers' Free List Is Intended as a Sop to Those Affected by Provisions of the Reciprocity Pact---Measures Adopted by House Democrats May Fail in Senate.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, D. C., April 11.—(Special.)—The democrats of the house in caucus tonight agreed upon the initial steps in tariff revision. By a vote of 128 to 29 it was decided to pass the Canadian reciprocity within the next week without amendment.

The following articles are to be put upon the free list as a sop to the farmers along the Canadian border who will be adversely affected by the reciprocity agreement, though the effect of the action will be widespread.

Agricultural implements, including plows, harrows, reapers, binders, mowers, boots and shoes, harness and saddlery, barbed wire and other fencing, cotton bagging and ties, coarse sacks, burlaps, flour, dressed meats and meat products, salt, sewing machines, rough lumber except lignum vitae, seedard and hardwood. Another caucus will probably be held within the next two weeks to decide what shall be done to the woolen and cotton schedules.

Caucus Action Victory for Bryan.

The decision of the ways and means committee was explained and supported before the caucus by Chairman Underwood. He submitted drafts of bills embracing the committee's views.

The action of the caucus was a victory for William Jennigs Bryan. Mr. Bryan is conceded to control eight of fourteen members of the ways and means committee. The Bryan men are Kitchen, of North Carolina; James, of Kentucky; Dixon, of Indiana; Shakleford, of Missouri; Hughes, of New Jersey; Hull, of Tennessee; Hammond, of Minnesota, and Rainey, of Illinois.

The men who are not under the Bryan influence are Underwood, of Alabama; Brantley, of Georgia; Peters, of Massachusetts; Harrison, of New York; Randall, of Texas, and Palmer, of Pennsylvania. They opposed many individual features of the free raw materials program, but will abide by the decision of the caucus.

May Fail in Senate.

While the caucus action tonight insures the passage of the above measures through the house, there is no certainty that all the articles proposed to be placed on the free list will be approved by the senate. The new steering committee of the senate named by Senator Martin today is an anti-Bryan committee. It is composed of Senators Martin, of Virginia; Culberson, of Texas; Clark, of Arkansas; Simmons, of North Carolina; Bankhead, of Alabama; Fletcher, of Florida; Williams, of Mississippi;

WILL PROBE SALE OF OLD BARRACKS

Council Acts on Central Station Plan.

For the purpose of investigating the plan to sell the present police barracks property and establish a central station at the city hall and placing sub-police stations in the outskirts of the city, both the general council and the police commission have adopted resolutions.

At a meeting Tuesday afternoon the general council adopted the following resolution:

By Councilman Johnston:

Whereas, a plan has been suggested looking to the sale of the present police barracks property for the purpose of establishing a central police station at the city hall and three or four sub-police stations in the outskirts of the city;

Therefore, be it resolved, that the police committee of council and the special city hall committee are hereby requested to take up this matter with a committee from the police commission with a view of making a full report on the whole question of selling the police barracks property and using the money thus secured for making addition to the city hall for a central police station and for establishing sub-police stations in the outskirts of the city.

Police Board Acts.

By Commissioner Mason:

Whereas, it may be wise and expedient for the city to sell the present police barracks property and use the money thus derived for securing a central police station by making additions to the new city hall and for establishing sub-police stations in the outskirts of the city;

And whereas, if this is to be done, now is the time to take proper action while the new city hall is being remodeled;

And, whereas, the change proposed will greatly add to the efficiency of the police force;

Therefore, be it resolved, that a com-

UNCLES FORMED PLOT TO ROB BOY'S MOTHER

Wearing Masks, Rogers Brothers Tore Little Fellow From Mother and Hid Him—They Then Used Wiggins to Induce Mother to Pay $12,000 as Ransom.

Las Vegas, N. M., April 11.—Late tonight Will Rogers confessed his part in the abduction. He told where the money was hidden and officers went to the place and found the $12,000. In his statement Will Rogers does not connect his brother John with the kidnaping plot. The latter has not been arrested but is under surveillance.

Las Vegas, N. M., April 11.—Implicated by the confession of Joe Wiggins, a former life convict, Will and John Rogers, uncles of little Waldo Rogers, were tonight arrested for complicity in the lad's abduction. For his return $12,000 ransom was paid, Will Rogers acting as agent for Mrs. Rogers.

Tonight's disclosures have aroused the city to a degree of excitement that authorities fear may result in a demonstration against the prisoners. The accused are in the county jail, which is guarded by a large force of deputies. Plans have been formulated for taking them to the penitentiary at Santa Fe tomorrow for safe-keeping.

Story Told by Wiggins.

According to the story told by Wiggins, he first became acquainted with John Rogers through the law firm by which the latter was employed and which was instrumental in getting Wiggins pardoned from the penientiary. Wiggins says that while working in the coal mines at Madrid, New Mexico, he received a letter from John Rogers, suggesting a scheme for making $10,000 "easy money."

Wiggins says he came to Las Vegas in a few days and later entered into the plot.

Waldo Rogers, the two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Rogers, and the grandson of H. L. Wade, a Kansas City millionaire was kidnaped form the family residence on the night of March 29.

Boy Taken at Pistol Point.

Taking advantage of absence from the city of the boy's father two masked men went to the Rogers home shortly before midnight and at the point of a revolver compelled Mrs. Rogers to dress the child for a night ride and deliver him to them. They repeatedly assured her that the child would not be harmed and that he would be returned safely provided the police were not informed and $12,000 in small bills was paid to their representatives. They named a lonely spot eleven miles north of Las Vegas as the place where the money was to be delivered by Mrs. Rogers to the representative who was to come to the rendezvous alone, the following day.

Mother Pays $12,000 to Get Boy.

Taking only her bankers and her brother-in-law, Will Rogers, into her confidence, Mrs. Rogers secured $12,000 the following morning and delivered it to Will Rogers to carry to the place of meeting.

Will Rogers returned Thursday night with the child, who was well and unharmed. He told Mrs. Rogers, and later the authorities, that he had been met at the appointed place by a man, who, after receiving and counting the money, directed him to a canyon 15 miles south of the place of meeting, where he found the boy, lying in an arroyo, wrapped in a blanket.

Reward of $20,000 for Kidnapers.

A reward of $20,000 was offered for the capture and conviction of the kidnapers, and the country was ablaze with indignation. Threats of lynching were freely made. Bloodhounds were taken to the supposed place, north of Las Vegas, but were unable to find the trail of the supposed fugitives.

H. L. Waldo, grandfather of the boy, arrived in Las Vegas April 1 to aid in tracing the kidnapers.

Died With Cards in Hand.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 11.—With the ards with which they had been playing still clutched in the hands the bodies of George Kopp and Richard Dooley were found in a room today. They had been asphyxiated evidently during their game.

CHANGE PROGRAM FOR GRAND OPERA

Otello in Place of the Golden West.

New Opera Substituted Because of Condition of Caruso's Voice, Which Prevents Tenor Coming to Atlanta. Many Great Singers Coming.

SALE OF TICKETS WILL BEGIN THIS MORNING

The sale of single tickets to the grand opera performance on April 27, 28 and 29 opens this morning. The tickets will be sale at the offices of Philips & Crews, on North Pryor street, and at the Cable Piano Company, on North Broad. While the sale of season tickets to the operas for surpass that of last year, and run close to $40,000, there are hundreds of splendid seats left.

The price list for single performances is as follows: Boxes seating six, $45; boxes seating four, $30; arena, $5 and $4; dress circle, $5, $4 and $2.50; balcony $3, $2 and $1; back of sight line, dress circle and balcony, $1.

Because of the fact that Caruso's voice has been seriously affected by a severe attack of "grip" and that he will be unable to sing for a period of several months, the Metropolitan Opera Company, of New York, has been forced to substitute the brilliant opera "Otello" for the "Girl of the Golden West," in which the famous tenor was billed originally to appear.

The announcement of the fact that Caruso would be unable to appear in Atlanta during the coming season of grand opera was made Tuesday afternoon by the management of the Atlanta Music Festival Association after it had been finally determined, after thorough investigation, that Caruso's voice is in such condition that he will be unable to sing for several months to come.

Change Was Necessary.

"The Girl of the Golden West" is one of the greatest operas ever written, and for that reason it was secured to open the season of grand opera in Atlanta on April 27 with Caruso as the bright and shining star. But when it became a positive fact that Caruso could not sing, and that his physicians had positively forbidden any attempt to appear on the stage, it became necessary for the Metropolitan Opera Company, in order to sustain its world-wide reputation, to produce in its place an opera that would meet all the exacting demands that would be made upon it by a critical audience in Atlanta, "the music center of the south."

That exaction is fully met by the announcement that the splendid opera "Otello," with a magnificent cast including such famous singers as Slezak, Amato, Alda, Claesseus and De Segurola, will be in Atlanta with an enormous orchestra and all the New York scenery used in the production in the greatest cities of the world to make up for any disappointment which may accrue from the inability to produce "The Girl of the Golden West."

In view of the fact that it will be impossible to present "The Girl of the Golden West," the Metropolitan Opera Company has been compelled to slightly change the arrangement in the presentation of the operas. Instead of Puccini's opera, which was to have opened the season on Thursday night, April 27, Ponchielli's beautiful opera, "La Gioconda," which was to have closed the engagement, has been moved up to the opening night, with such famous

Gallons of Wine Are Poured Into the Streets---The Mobs, Thousands Strong, March From Town to Town, Sacking Cellars and Destroying Wine---Troops Ordered Out.

Paris, April 11.—The senate today, after a lengthy discussion of the serious situation which has arisen over the champagne question, adopted a resolution in favor of the suppression of all territorial delimitations as likely to provoke dissensions between the various sections of the country. A law was recently enacted excluding the department of Aube from the region the wine of which can legally be designated champagne. This has resulted in demonstrations of protest in that department.

Wine Riots in Marne Department.

Rheims, France, April 11.—The resolution adopted by the senate relative to the delimited champagne area caused tremendous excitement throughout the department of Marne. It is considered a deadly blow to the interests of Marne, and a concession to the rival and neighboring department of Aube.

A column of 2,000 marchers from all the villages in the Marne valley descended on Epernay, which is the entrepot for champagne wines. These are kept in vaults in the rocks on which the town is built. They paraded through several small towns, doing considerable damage to the cellars of unpopular firms. The authorities hastily dispatched the Sixteenth dragoons and a heavy force of gendarmes after the rioters.

Epernay Is Seething.

Epernay, Department of Marne, France, April 11.—Upon hearing the decision of the senate, the leaders summoned the wine growers to assemble at Epernay, and the call was quickly answered. A big column gathered from various sections, marched through the valley and arrived at Dizy before the authorities were aware that the workers had started. They wrecked cellars and smashed 250,000 bottles of champagne, throwing up barricades with casks and hoisting the red flag.

The column then swept down on Damery, where three establishments were sacked, gallons of wine being poured into the streets. The next stopping place was Ay, where the rioters were beginning the work of destruction when a squadron of the Thirty-first dragoons, which had been sent in pursuit, caught up with them, driving them out of town. Several of the rioters were injured, but the others took up the march to Epernay.

At Epernay, the populace was seething. All the troops were on foot, and approaches to the town were strongly guarded. The situation is considered serious, and it is feared the night will not pass without further destruction to property.

PROBE FOR WICKERSHAM; TAFT MAY HAVE TO NAME NEW ATTORNEY GENERAL

WICKERSHAM'S EFFORTS TO BREAK COTTON PRICES AND AID THE BEAR CLIQUE

That Story Revived in View of Resolution Calling for Probe of Department of Justice. Alleged Because of Former Legal Connection with New York Cotton Exchange Used Power of Government in Effort to "Bear" Cotton and Aid Former Employer.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

All Washington is agog tonight over a resolution introduced in the house today by Representative Rainey, of Illinois, which is aimed directly at the attorney general.

May Disqualify Wickersham.

Mr. Rainey's resolution calls for an investigation of the department of justice concerning proceedings instituted under the Sherman anti-trust law and subsequently dropped and as to whether Attorney General Wickersham has "outside employment," which would disqualify him for his position in President Taft's cabinet.

The resolution, referred to the committee on rules, provides that a committee of nine members of the house—six democrats and three republicans—conduct the investigation, and asks an appropriation of $15,000 to cover the expense. It directs a thorough inquiry into all cases instituted under the Sherman anti-trust law and the commodities clause of the Hepburn railroad law and to ascertain what cases, if any, were dropped and the reasons therefor.

Mr. Rainey's resolution also contemplates an inquiry into the appropriations to the departments of justice for employment of special counsel, how expended and in what cases, also what special counsel is now employed and upon what character of work.

The "Special Counsel" Business.

There is little doubt of the adoption of the resolution and it is expected that the investigation which will follow will disclose whether there is any truth in the gossip current here in reference to the former legal connection of Attorney General Wickersham with certain trusts which the government started out to prosecute and then grew lukewarm, and especially with reference to the gossip that the attorney general was formerly connected in a legal way with the New York Cotton Exchange and has ever since shown a kindly disposition toward his former client.

WIFE DETERMINED TO HAVE DIVORCE

Mrs. Strange Threatens to Expose Husband.

"If he doesn't commence divorce proceedings I will," was the emphatic comment of Mrs. R. Bennett Strange, of 123 Garnett street, last night, in referring to the trouble between J. W. Nix, of 697 Boulevard, and her husband, who found them together in a hotel Tuesday morning.

"And," she continued, "I will show him up as he was never shown before, his past meanness and his treatment of me."

Mr. Strange, who comes of a prominent family and is well connected in the city, discovered his wife and Mr. Nix in a bed room at the Glenn hotel, 40½ Madison avenue, yesterday morning about 9:30 o'clock, and grabbing Mr. Nix by the belt, haled him through the streets without an officer to the police station, where the recorder imposed a fine of $50 and costs. Mr. Nix made no defense.

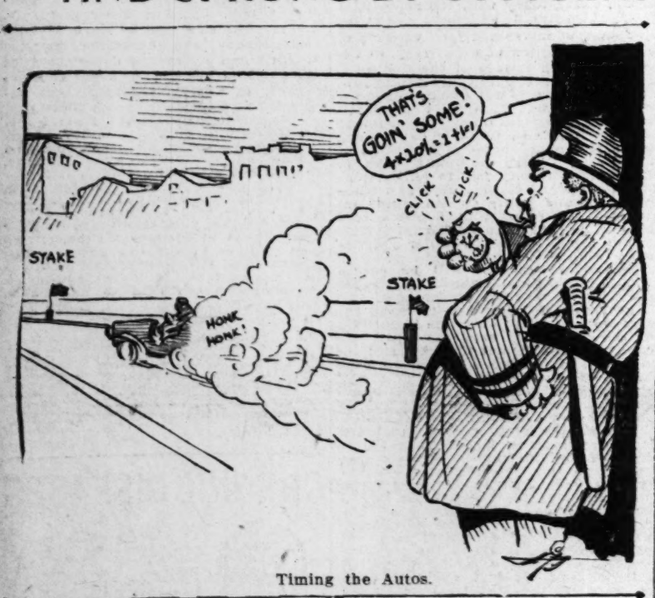

In speaking of the affair Mrs Strange could hardly control herself, and broke down completely when her aged mother was mentioned. "I am guilty of no wrongdoing," she cried, "but what will my people and my friends think!

"I went to the hotel to see Mr. Nix by appointment, but it was on legitimate business. I wanted to get a position, to help support myself, because my husband can't do it, and Mr. Nix promised to help me. I have slaved and toiled all my life, and every ring I had has been pawned or sold to buy the necessaries of life. My husband has treated me cruelly on many occasions, and I will certainly bring all this out in court."

Mr. Strange defends his actions of Tuesday, and states that the only thing that saved the life of Mr. Nix was the fact that he had no gun. "But I wouldn't have hit you," he said turning to his wife, "for I never hit a woman yet."

Mr. Strange also denies any ill-treatment of his wife, and says that if the matter is left to her own family that they will say he has always been good to her. He refused to say whether or not he would commence suit for divorce, but his remarks that "all this will be brought out later" are taken to indicate the proceedings will be instituted at once.

TRAP SET FOR SPEEDERS AND SPRUNG BY OFFICERS

Timing the Autos.

With two pegs marking a quarter-mile stretch, laid down by actual measurement with a tape line, Policeman George Eddleman is now prepared to time all autos that speed on Edgewood avenue.

Officer Eddleman, who has been on the force many years and who knows a thing or two when it comes to catching law breakers, has measured off a quarter of a mile on Edgewood avenue and all he has to do to catch speeding autos is to stand in the middle of his improvised race course with his watch in his hand and time the autos as they pass one stake and speed to another. He says he has adopted this plan because whenever a driver is arrested for speeding an auto the plea is made that a policeman can't tell exactly how fast an auto is going.

"I've got 'em where they can't squeal any more," he says.

The first persons arrested by Officer Eddleman for speeding over his quarter of a mile track were M. L. Thrower and James Duffy. Mr. Thrower and Mr. Duffy were arraigned in the recorder's court yesterday morning and were each fined $15.75. When Officer Eddleman was asked how he knew the autos were going over twenty miles an hour, he told about his quarter of a mile stretch on Edgewood avenue. As Mr. Thrower and Mr. Duffy left the court room together to pay their fine they shook hands.

PENCIL STOPS STAB AT HEART

Hotel Clerk Escapes the Knife of Negro.

An ordinary lead pencil saved the life of E. W. Adams, the night clerk at the Peachtree Inn, last night, when he was attacked by a negro bell boy.

Adams reprimanded Fred Chancellor, a negro bell boy about 20 years old, and the negro attacked him with a knife. After being knocked down three times by the white man, Chancellor reached him, and in his first slash cut open Mr. Adams' cheek and severed the artery over the cheek.

The next blow would have reached Mr. Adams' heart had it not been for a lead pencil which he carried in the breast pocket of his coat. The pencil was cut entirely through, and the stab even then possessed sufficient force to cut entirely through the coat and scratch the skin just over the heart.

The fight occurred in the presence of a number of guests who were unable to stop the struggle before Mr. Adams had been wounded. As soon as possible they reached the two, when the negro ran through the door and escaped. Mr. Adams' wounds were sewed up by a physician at the inn, who said that though they were serious, he would recover. The negro has not been apprehended.

Negroes Shoot Conductor Bell.

Greensboro, N. C., April 11.—R. C. Bell, a Southern railway freight conductor, was shot four times tonight by one of two negro heboes whom Bell attempted to put off his train. Bell was carried to High Point and there given medical attention. He has two bullets in his abdomen and one in each leg, though it is not believed his wounds will prove fatal.

WORTH A MILLION; HELD AS VAGABOND

Rich American and Secretary in Belgium Pen.

Brussels, Belgium, April 11.—The morning papers declare that Ralph Brandreth, of New York, and his secretary, August Mathias, who were arrested on March 17 on the charge of having swindled a hotel and who subsequently were sentenced each to two years' imprisonment as vagabonds, have been released from prison by order of the minister of justice after having served twenty days.

According to the papers an investigation instituted by the minister of justice showed that Brandreth was an American millionaire.

Millionaire Without Money.

Maitre Revelard, counsel for Mr. Brandreth, who it is said will bring an action against those responsible for his incarceration, said that his client was senior partner in the Allcock Manufacturing Company, of New York. He explained that Mr. Brandreth had found himself temporarily without money and was unable to pay his bill at the hotel. The hotel keeper asked him to leave, which he did, stopping with a friend. The hotel-keeper later denounced him to the police and charged that he had borrowed money under false pretenses.

Brandreth was arrested, and in spite of protests, was sentenced to two years' imprisonment as a vagrant. The court proceedings passed unnoticed.

In the meantime the minister of justice cabled to New York to verify his identity, but received no reply until today.

He then immediately ordered the release of Brandreth with apologies.

American Legation to Act.

It is understood, however, that the matter will not be allowed to rest. The American legation will make an investigation, considering it inadmissible that an American should lie

KNOCK-OUT BLOW TO ANTI-BOYCOTT

So Says Judge Parker of Danbury Hat Decision.

New York, April 11.—The decision of the United States circuit court of appeals in reversing a judgment of $232,240 given by the lower court to D. E. Lowe & Company, of Danbury, Conn., against the United Hatters of North America, "blasts the hopes of the American Anti-boycott Association and the plaintiffs of recovering and enforcing judgments against members of labor organizations" in the opinion of Alton B. Parker, of counsel for the hatters.

Helpful to Organized Labor.

"It is an important and helpful decision for organized labor," said Mr. Parker, today. "While the suit was brought by the members of the firm of Loewe & Company and doubtless for their benefit, still the real prosecutor, as appears from the record, was the American Anti-Boycott Association. This association promised the plaintiff to furnish the lawyers and pay the expenses of a litigation, the trial of which consumed nearly twelve weeks, and in addition selected the defendants. There were more than 9,000 members of the various hatters' unions and only a little more than 200 of them are defendants. Of these more than 180 were not members of the union which went on strike and had no knowledge whatever either of the origin or the details of the controversy with Loewe and Co.

The End Aimed At.

"The basis of selection was a property basis solely. If a member of some hatters' union could be found who owned his little home or possessed a bank account or both, he was made defendant and his property attacked. The end aimed at was far beyond the rethe Rainey resolution carries and if an investigation of the department of justice is begun, startling disclosures may be brought out as to Wickersham's legal connection with the New York Cotton Exchange, showing that his action a year ago in bringing the force of his office and the power of the government to the rescue of the "bear welchers" when they got caught in a $5,000,000 corner in an effort to pull down the price of cotton was the result of his former connection with the legal department of the New York Cotton Exchange.

This was the first time in the history of the country that the power of the government had been brought to bear to reduce the price of a staple commodity.

When Cotton Was Raided to 4 Cents.

Only a few years ago, when cotton was selling from 4 to 6 cents a pound and when every farmer in the south was on the verge of bankruptcy as a result of the staple being held below the cost of production by successful bear raids, nobody heard of the government interfering to protect the southern planters.

Last spring, however, when cotton was around 15 cents, a bear clique of the New York Cotton Exchange thought it was a good time to corner the market and handle it at their will and they set about to close their corner.

In the meantime the southern spinners and cotton dealers got on to the game of the New York bear clique and bought up all the available cotton. Under a gentleman's agreement this cotton was to be held for spinning purposes and was not to be sold at any price.

Bears Called, Wickersham Heard.

The time for delivery came and the bears of the New York Cotton Exchange called on for the delivery of actual cotton in settlement of their selling contracts. They could not buy the cotton, for it was held by southern spinners and dealers under an agreement not to sell except for spinning purposes.

When the New York bears saw that the cotton was beyond their reach, they rushed to Attorney General Wickersham, their former legal adviser and in the twinkling of an eye he came to their rescue by indicting the representatives of the southern interests which held the cotton, charging that they held the cotton as the result of a conspiracy in restraint of trade. Wickersham thus endeavored to force the cotton on the market so it could be bought at lower prices by the New York bears and be used to fill contracts on actual delivery.

But Plot Didn't Work.

The indicted agents of the southern holders of cotton at once appealed to the courts, held their cotton and when it was found by the New York bears who had gon gunning that they were in an inextricable corner themselves and that Wickersham's efforts to come to their rescue had failed, they were forced to settle for cotton which they had sold in an effort to break the market at a loss of $8,000,000.

Gossip about Wickersham's "outside employment" has long been current in Washington and the introduction of Mr. Rainey's resolution has resulted in a revival, not only of these stories, but of many others about the department of justice and its chief.

Those who profess to know predict that a searching investigation along the lines of the Rainey resolution will result in revelations that will startle the country. Only the investigation can tell whether there is anything in this gossip and these prophesies.

FIRE-TRAP OWNERS MUST FACE JURY

Two Men Indicted for New York Horror.

Isaac Harris and Max Blanck, Owners of Triangle Waist Company, Held Responsible for the Death of 145 Persons, Mostly Girls.

New York, April 11.—Isaac Harris and Max Blanck, owners of the Triangle Waist Company, were indicted this afternoon by the grand jury which is investigating the circumstances of the Washington Place fire of March 25, in or as a result of which 145 employees of the company lost their lives.

The indictments, four in number, charge each man with manslaughter in the first and second degrees, the maximum penalty for which is twenty and ten years' imprisonment respectively.

Harris and Blanck were arrested at their homes, arraigned, and, after entering pleas of not guilty, were released under $25,000 bail.

Allegations of Indictments.

The indictments charge that the defendants are responsible for the deaths of Renie Grasso, and Marguerite Schwartz, whose charred bodies were found on the ninth floor of the burned building. The Grasso girl was 16 years of age; Marguerite Schwartz was 22. The district attorney hopes to prove that the girls tried the door on the ninth floor in an effort to escape, but that it was locked.

A charred piece of the door in question with the bolt shot was shown to the grand jury as well as a part of the burned stairway. A few minutes afterward the indictments were returned. Other indictments may follow. Judge O'Sullivan thanked the grand jury for its diligence and gave the defendants until April 25 to withdraw their pleas of not guilty. Both men took their arrest calmly. The grand jury investigation will be resumed next week.

Benefit Matinee Realizes $8,350.

While the grand jury was engaged in perfecting the indictments a special benefit matinee for the aid of sufferers from the fire was held at the Metropolitan Opera House under the auspices of the Association of Theatrical Managers of Greater New York. The sum of $8,350 was realized to swell the relief fund.

The box office receipts were $8,000, which was augmented by $350 by the sale at auction of a souvenir program by every artist taking part in the performance. George M. Cohan, as the auctioneer, was himself the highest bidder with $350.

The house was packed from floor to dome and hundreds were standing. Prominent actors and actresses sold programs. Forty-three of the leading operatic, dramatic, musical comedy and vaudeville stars gave their service. Among the Metropolitan opera singers were Destinn, Gadski, Homer, Rappold, de Pasquali, Slezak, Scotti and Dinnh Gilly.

MIGHTY GOOD NEWS FOR "ALIMONY CLUB"

Court Decision Will Let Members Out of Ludlow Street Jail.

New York, April 11.—Good news for the "Alimony Club" in Ludlow street jail is contained in a decision handed down today by Justice Gunn in the supreme court in the case of Helen W. Richards against John T. Richards, a lawyer. He held, in substance, that Richards need not stay in jail forever merely because he had not paid his wife her temporary alimony, and ordered his release. Justice Gunn held that such a contention is an absurdity. Richards had been in jail since October 11, when he was committed for contempt.

POLICE BOARD FAVORS OLD AFTERNOON HOURS

Recommends Recorder's Court Be Changed Back to 2:30 O'Clock.

The board of police commissioners last night unanimously voted to recommend to council the change in the hour of police court from 1 o'clock to 2:30 o'clock, the original time.

The vote came after some discussion, in which Aldermen Maddox and McClelland took part. Mr. Maddox stated that the matter had not been properly considered when recently passed and that the change back to the origial hour is desired by citizens as well as the police force. He also said that having been a policeman himself he knew the amount of time required in the work, and that the early court was too taxing on the officers. Mr. McClelland said that he had voted for the measure under a misapprehension, and that he wanted it put back to 2:30 if it was for the good of the department.

Various members of the board had something to say about the change, and Chief Jennings was asked for an opinion. He stated that he had not known the ordinance was under consideration until it was passed, and would not commit himself on the advisability of changing the hour again, stating that 1 o'clock was better for the city, but that 2:30 worked less hardship on the men.

At a meeting of the ordinance committee of council in the afternoon the matter of the change in time was referred to the police board for consideration and report to council.

Juve and McGlynn Were Injured While Saving Lives of Fellows.

New York, April 11.—The heroism of Oralavus Juve and John J. McGlynn, who risked their lives to save fifty of their fellows while working on the Queensboro bridge in 1907, was rewarded by the appellate division of the supreme court today by the award of $20,000 damages to each of the men.

They were placing in position some large iron plates on the tower of the bridge. One of these slipped from its supports, and would have fallen in the midst of the fifty men working below if Juve and McGlynn had not deflected it. In so doing their hands were crushed, costing them their usefulness in a trade at which they had earned from $30 to $40 a week. Their suit for damages was against the Pennsylvania Steel Company, which had the contract for the steel work on the bridge.

KLAUS HAD A SHADE ON JIMMY GARDNER

In the Six-Round Bout Which They Fought at Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, April 11.—Frank Klaus, the Pittsburg middleweight, had a shade on Jimmy Gardner, of Lowell, Mass., in a six-round bout here tonight. Gardner did some masterful boxing, and, although his blows lacked force, they had sufficient steam to make Klaus careful. Klaus sent vicious blows at Gardner's head, and the nimble Massachusetts lad either ducked or sidestepped and sent back stinging upercuts.

Both men gave a fine exhibition, and it is conceded that in a longer bout Klaus would prove himself the master of Gardner.

Neither of the men was marked or distressed at the end of the bout.

WOMAN HIDES SHOTGUN AND PREVENTS SUICIDE

G. C. Thompson Held at Police Station After Twice Attempting Death.

After a sharp fight for the possession of a shotgun, with which he declared that he would end his life, G. C. Thompson, 21 years old, who said that he was a printer, living at 168 South Forsyth street, was arrested last night and locked up to prevent a tragedy. He refused to say anything of his troubles. He is the son of former Captain of Police J. A. Thompson.

The story of the trouble was told by L. Roan, who had been with Thompson and J. R. Rousey, with whom he lived, all the afternoon.

"Rousey and I went with Thompson to the corner of Forsyth and Garnett streets yesterday afternoon, where he left us and went down to his house," said Roan. "In a few minutes a young lady ran out to us, saying that she had hidden a gun from him, and wanted help to quiet him.

"We took him back on uptown," continued Mr. Roan, "and up to Mr. Rousey's shop. Thompson asked for the shotgun that was usually there, and made a search for it. He pulled two shells from his pocket, and started toward the closet, declaring that he would kill himself, because he was tired of life. Mr. Rousey had a hard fight to get the gun away, while I called Officers Johnson and McWilliams. They locked him up."

It was stated that hard work had unbalanced Thompson's mind.

"PAY DIRT" STRUCK IN LORIMER SCANDAL

Springfield, Ill., April 11.—According to a story in circulation here today the legislative committee which is investigating charges of bribery in connection with the election of William Lorimer to the United States senate is in possession of the names of the persons referred to as "we" in the alleged conversation between Clarence S. Funk and Edward Hines, at the Union League club, Chicago. One of the persons is said to be the manager of a large department store in Chicago. The other is said to be the president of a Chicago bank.

According to Funk's testimony, Hines told him that "we" had to put Lorimer over hurriedly and that it cost $100,000 which "we" are now trying to collect back from some of "our friends."

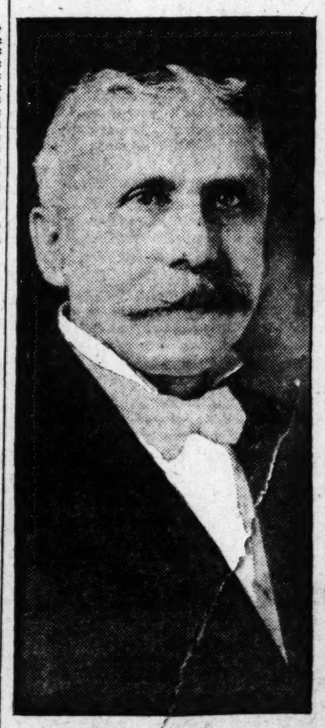

Chairman Helm, maintaining the secrecy that has characterized the procedure of his committee, refused to deny or affirm that the two persons referred to as "we" will be subpoenaed.

One of them is said to be out of the country at this time.

RODS IN PICKLE FOR HITCHCOCK

Congress Will Soon Begin Postal Investigation.

Shepard Resolution Will Be Adopted and the Postal Committee Will Take Up Every Complaint Against Department---To Turn on Light.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, April 11.—(Special.)—One of the first committees of the house which will settle down to work is the committee on expenditures in the postoffice department. Chairman Ashbrook today announced that he would call the committee to meet on Thursday of this week. In the meantime there will be an informal conference of the democratic members of the committee.

The republican members are Representatives Austin, of Tennessee, Slemp, of Virginia, and Towner, of Iowa. A poll of the committee indicates that Representative Morris Shepard's resolution of investigation will be promptly reported.

All Complaints to Be Heard.

Chairman Ashbrook in discussing the work ahead of the committee said it had heretofore been a merely decorative committee, but that it would be busy from now on. He thoroughly approved the Shepard resolution which gives the committee power to subpoena witnesses and examine them under oath and to require the production of books and papers.

"In addition to the inquiry which we will initiate on our own responsibility," said Mr. Ashbrook, "any complaint or other evidence against the postoffice department will have our careful attention. Already a number of members of the house have assured me that we have an inexhaustible mine to work. This is something new to me, but the inquiry we will set on foot will be thorough and painstaking."

Will Republicans Defend Hitchcock?

Representative Austin, the leading republican member of the committee, was asked the point blank question as to whether the republican members felt called upon to defend the administration of this executive department. He stated that they would do their full duty and seek every light possible on the official conduct of Mr. Hitchcock. He admitted that in the past the committee rarely, if ever met, but he saw busy times ahead.

A unique thing about this committee is that five of its seven members are from the north and the two new southern members, Austin and Slemp, are republicans.

TRAIN GOES INTO DITCH

Engineer Killed and Five Passengers Injured Near Muldon, Miss.

Mobile, Ala., April 11.—Mobile and Ohio passenger train No. 4, leaving Mobile this morning went into the ditch two miles south of Muldon, Miss., this afternoon. The engine and baggage car were derailed, the engine turning completely over and killing Engineer Jasper Adams and injuring the baggagemaster, porter and five passengers.

The train was running on a straight section of track that had apparently been softened by the heavy rains of Tuesday morning when one side of the embankment slipped away, throwing the engine from the track and carrying the baggage car with it. One passenger car was drailed and five of the passengers were more or less severely injured, none fatally.

The speed of the train at the time of the accident is said to have been about forty miles per hour and that there were no other fatalities is considered almost miraculous. The fireman, although considerably bruised, escaped serious injury by jumping just as the engine left the track.

"WEATHER DOPE FAILED TO PAN"

Von Herrmann Believes It Will Be Cloudy and Rainy This Morning.

In the spring the changing weather
Blasts the public's budding hope;
In the spring the wise forecaster
Hedges on the weather dope.

In the spring the forecast has it:
"Sunshine floods the hills and plains"—
In the spring the puzzled dopester
Marvels at the way it rains.
—From "Woes of a Weatherman."

Undaunted by the failure of the weather to conform strictly to plans and specifications, Weather Observer von Herrmann came back strongly yesterday afternoon with the following line of dope on the weather situation for today:

"Cloudy and rainy weather in the forenoon, with somewhat warmer weather. In the afternoon it will be clear, with southerly winds."

"The forecast for Tuesday was just a rank failure," declared Mr. von Herrmann. "While all the indications at the time the observation was made pointed to fair and warmer weather Tuesday, there suddenly developed an area of high pressure in the northeast, causing strong easterly winds, which blew over the Atlantic coast, and blew in all the moisture from the Atlantic. The 'dope,' as you call it, just failed to pan out. That was all."

MILLER AND PALS ARE FOUND GUILTY

Aberdeen, Miss., April 11.—The government's prosecution of members of the spot cotton firm of Steele-Miller & Co., ended today with the acceptance by J. H. Hiller, L. C. Steele and C. H. G. Linde, of instructed jury verdicts of guilty to charges of conspiracy to defraud through misuse of the mails. J. H. McKnight confidential employe of the concern who was also named in the indictments, was absolved of culpability and the charges dismissed. Tonight Steele and Linde, in their day among the best known spot cotton traders of the south, occupy adjoining cells in the Monroe county jail to Miller, who was imprisoned several days ago when he was found guilty on a separate indictment of circulating bogus cotton bills of lading. Two additional indictments pending against Miller individually were nolle prossed.

Tomorrow sentence will be passed and the men will immediately begin the serving of their punishment. No appeal will be taken and to make the way clear for the immediate imposition of sentences, attorneys for Miller today withdrew demurrers and motions in arrest of judgment previously filed. In the case of Miller a fine of $7,000, and imprisonment for 35 years is possible. Linde and Steele may be imprisoned for 30 years and fined $6,000.

Today's court procedure occupied less than half an hour. The acceptance of the instructed verdicts was agreed to this morning at a conference between District Attorney Stone and attorneys for the defense. When court convened this afternoon the six indictments charging conspiracy were consolidated, formal pleas of not guilty were entered and the jury instructed to return a verdict of guilty.

Indictments against the firm were returned at the last term of United States district court. The cases were brought to trial Tuesday of last week and Saturday Miller, the first member of the firm tried, was declared guilty. No testimony in defense was offered. Steele and Linde, testifying in the case of Miller, admitted the charges as true and a plea of guilty in their cases was anticipated.

It is charged that the banking institutions and cotton importing firms of the United States and Europe were defrauded of approximately two and a half millions of dollars as a result of the transactions of the concern. Their operations, it was alleged, consisted of the issuance in systematic rotation of forged bills of lading. To testify, witnesses were summoned from points in Germany and France, besides a number of prominent railroad officials and bankers of the United States. The witnesses started on their homeward journey tonight.

AMERICAN WOMEN HELD BY MEXICANS

San Diego, Cal., April 11.—Mexican filibusterers hold a number of American women and children captive in a stockade at Alamo, Lower California, it became known here today. The prisoners are said to be at the mercy of their captors and to have suffered insults and indignities. A protest has been made to Secretary of State Knox.

Among those held captive are D. Raffi, his wife and five children, of San Diego.

News of the condition of the prisoners at Alamo was brought to Ensanada last week and reported to George R. Schumucker, United States consul, as well as to Governor Celso Vega, of Lower California. It is charged that Vega did not send relief and Schumaker ignored the complaint.

Fearing for the welfare of the prisoners in the hands of the rebels, who are said to be commanded by Simon Berthold, this wire was sent to Secretary Knox:

"American women and children held at Alamo, Mexico, by rebels. Unable to obtain food or relief. Wires to Ensenada are down. Reliably informed that Mexican governor Lower California declines relief. Will you order warship to Ensenada to rescue. Please answer."

Secretary Knox wired this reply:

"The ambassador at Mexico City has been instructed by telegraph to request the Mexican government to extend protection to the American citizens and the American consul at Ensenada has been instructed by telegraph to investigate and report, and to ask the governor for needed protection for those people."

It is said today advices from Ensenada gave no reason for the imprisonment of the Americans and their families at Alamo. The Americans were employed in the mines near Alamo and Berthold, the guerilla chief, confiscated all the supplies in the town, it is declared.

TOWNS RAIDED BY REBELS AND TEN PERSONS KILLED

El Paso, Texas, April 11.—Early advices from Guadalajara state that bandits from the territory of Tepeo have raided Palos Verdes, a small town in the Mascota district of Jalisco, killing the local judge, Jose Montes de Oca, and ten other residents. The bandits are said to have secured some money and extensive supplies of corn and beans. A detachment of state gendarmes have been sent in pursuit of the bandits, who are reported to be in the Mascota district.

Specials to Guadalajara from Merida, the capital of Yucatan, tell of insurrecto activity in the southern states of Campeche and Yucatan. Plantations are being raided, it is declared, and a number of joniquin plants have been burned. The aggregate loss is said to be heavy.

Among the plantations to suffer loss is that of Olegaro Molina, a former member of the Diaz cabinet. The managers of the Santa Rosa plantation in Yucatan and the Kayal plantation in Campeche are said to have been killed.

LAWYER AND POLICEMAN FIGHT HOT TALK BATTLE

"What recked the chieftain if he stood
On highland heath or holy rood?
He rights such wrongs where they are given—
Aye, though 'twere in the court of heaven."

The above lines from Sir Walter Scott's "Lady of the Lake," which were an outburst from Roderick Dhu when he quarreled with Fitz James, make a very apropos superscription to this story of a very red-hot altercation which occurred yesterday morning in the police court between Attorney Samuel C. Crane and Policeman Haslett. The row occurred while the court was in session and when a case was being tried. Such charges were made and such severe language used that it was feared there might later be very serious trouble between the lawyer and the officer.

Attorney Crane was defending Cora Walker, a negro woman, who had been arrested by Officer Haslett on the charge of running a disorderly house. While the lawyer was cross-questioning the policeman he asked:

"Isn't it your very greatest ambition to arrest negroes for immoral conduct?"

"No, it is not," replied the officer, "and you ought to know something about these negro houses, as you visit them yourself."

"You are a G— d—m liar," cried the attorney, his voice trembling with anger as he drew back his arm as if to strike the policeman.

Recorder Broyles reprimanded the attorney for using such language. The lawyer apologized, withdrew the language and went on trying the case. The woman was fined $5.

Attorney Crane told the recorder he greatly regretted the occurrence. The recorder said he would have to impose a fine of $5 for contempt of court.

"If you had only told the policeman what he said was false or untrue," stated the recorder, "I would not impose a fine, but your language was too profane as well as unparliamentary. The officer should not have made the remark he did."

Attorney Crane pulled the money out of his pocket to pay the fine and then asked the court:

"Can I make a statement, your honor?"

The recorder told him he could, and Attorney Crane said:

"This lying policeman has once before made charges against me which were lies. I stood it then. He has wilfully lied on me and I do not intend to take any more from him. I am not afraid of any man living and am certainly not going to be afraid of a lying policeman."

Officer Haslett spoke up and said:

"You will never make such remarks about me to my face on the streets. I am an officer on duty and cannot afford to resent what you say in the open court. All I want you to do is to meet me man to man."

"I will meet you anywhere," retorted the lawyer, shaking his fist at the policeman, "for I am not afraid of any such a lying character as you are."

Both men left the court room together, the lawyer being ahead. Serious trouble seemed imminent, but as the officer was near other policemen, who closely watched him, and the lawyer had to go and pay his fine, nothing further occurred.

TWO NUMBERS FOR AUTOS WANTED BY THE POLICE

Officers Anxious That One Number Be Placed on Front of Machine.

The police are urging the city authorities to require numbers to be placed on the front of automobiles as well as the rear. They claim that without numbers on front it is impossible to catch the drivers of many autos who have violated the speed ordinance.

When an automobile passes an officer going too fast he looks at the number on the rear, makes a note of it, and later all the policemen are instructed to look out for that number. Now with the number only on the rear, it is said, the auto can pass another policeman and when it gets by him where he can see the number, it has gone again.

The police say that with numbers on the front of autos the work of arresting speed breakers will be very much facilitated. It is probable that an ordinance will be adopted by council requiring numbers on the front of all autos.

HE GETS NEW TRIAL

DR. B. C. HYDE

DR. HYDE IS GIVEN ANOTHER CHANCE

New Trial Granted by Missouri Supreme Court.

Dr. Hyde Was Sentenced for Life for Alleged Poisoning of Millionaire Swope and Heirs of the Millionaire---Prisoners in Jail Congratulate Him.

Kansas City, April 11.—Dr. B. Clark Hyde, convicted after a sensational trial of the murder of Colonel Thomas H. Swope, a millionaire philanthropist, was today granted a new trial by the Missouri supreme court, sitting at Jefferson City.

Dr. Hyde has been in the county jail at Kansas City nearly a year following a sentence to life imprisonment.

The supreme court in setting aside the verdict of the trial court remanded Hyde to "the custody of the marshal of Jackson county without bail."

How Hyde Heard the News.

When news of the court's decision reached the county jail Dr. Hyde was taking his usual morning promenade up and down the narrow corridor in front of his cell on the third floor.

His lawyers shouted up to the prisoner:

"You have been granted a new trial."

Hyde stopped and smiled and said:

"Thank you, gentlemen."

Then the physician continued his walk.

When the other prisoners learned the import of the news a minute later they crowded around Dr. Hyde and congratulated him. For the first time since his incarceration he mingled with his fellow prisoners.

Dr. Hyde declined to make any comment, saying he must consult his attorneys first.

An important point in the decision remanding Hyde was that the court said Judge Latshaw's action in ordering Dr. Hyde locked up during the progress of his trial was "improper and unjustified."

Mrs. Hyde in Husband's Cell.

Mrs. Hyde was admitted to her husband's cell, and soon husband and wife were joined by the physician's attorneys, Frank Walsh and A. Cleary.

Later Dr. Hyde said:

"Of course I am disappointed that my case was not reversed outright. I shall struggle on, confident that I will convince not only the officers of the law, but the world of my innocence of the charge.

"I look forward with confidence to my acquittal in my next trial."

"I was sure the supreme court would free my husband," said Mrs. Hyde. "I know the utter falsity of the charges against him. I know the law will give my husband back to me, not because I love him and he loves me, but because he is innocent."

History of the Hyde Case.

The Missouri supreme court's decision was on an appeal of Hyde's attorneys for a new trial. He had been sentenced July 5, 1910, to life imprisonment by Judge Latshaw. On September 23, 1910, his attorneys asked the highest court in the state for a new hearing, charging error in 255 points. These included the following allegations:

That the indictments were illegal and the evidence insufficient to support the allegation; that competent testimony was barred and incompetent testimony received; that prejudicial remarks were allowed by the prosecutor and by the court; that the court should not have revoked Hyde's bond during the trial, and that the verdict was the result of passion and prejudice.

The chief evidence attacked was that of the Chicago and Michigan toxicologists who examined the viscern of the dead Swopes; an especial attack was made on Professor Vaughn, of Michigan, who testified that he found strychnine in the liver of Colonel Swope.

Capsules of Cyanide.

Dr. Hyde was found guilty of murder May 16, 1910. His inability properly to explain the purchase of capsules of cyanide of potassium was chiefly responsible for his conviction. He said it was used to kill cockroaches. The prosecution said it was to kill members of the Swope family and asked, "Does a man kill cockroaches with poison capsules?" Two days and a half after the arguments ended the verdict was returned.

The first of the series of tragedies in the Swope family was the death of James Moss Hunton, October 1, 1909. The prosecution charged that Hyde bled the patient beyond the limit of recovery, purposely.

Two days later Colonel Swope was stricken with convulsions and died. Witnesses testified that a few minutes before the convulsions Dr. Hyde had given Colonel Swope a capsule similar to the cynaide capsules it was shown he bought. The colonel's will leaving $1,600,000 to relatives was filed and then Miss Margaret Swope, a niece of Colonel Swope, became ill with typhoid fever. Then Chrisman Swope and two other relatives mentioned in the will became ill of typhoid. December 6 Chrisman Swope died, having convulsions similar to those of his uncle, the colonel.

Inoculation Alleged.

Two days later two more girls—legatees under the will—became ill with typhoid fever and nurses at the trial testified Hyde had inoculated the sick persons with the fever germs.

The repeated and continued illness and the two sudden deaths aroused suspicion, and a secret autopsy was made of the exhumed body of Colonel Swope and later that of Chrisman. On the toxicologists' reports and the testimony of a druggist who sold Hyde the potassium as well as that of nurses in the Swope home and of the typhoid patients, Hyde was convicted.

Mrs. Hyde stuck by her husband and against her relatives and went on the stand in his behalf, but in vain. Hyde claimed the men had died of natural causes, said the cynalide was to exterminate vermin and said he had purchased typhoid fever cultures with which to experiment.

Court on Typhoid Epidemic.

Today's decision was written by Judge Franklin Ferris, who pays particular attention to the typhoid fever epidemic and alleged use of strychnine and cyanide of potassium by Dr. Hyde.

The court reviews how the state dwelled on the deaths close together of Moss Hunton and Colonel Swope and the epidemic of typhoid fever which in two months "brought to bed nine persons."

These, the court says, were charged to Hyde partly to support a showing that the more Swope heirs died the larger would be the share of Mrs. Hyde, but the court does not treat the proof that Hyde had anything to do with these misfortunes as conclusive.

The court points to the evidence that Colonel Swope was 82 years of age and that symptoms of his last sickness would justify the conclusion that he died from senile debility or uraemic poisoning.

IDIOT PUT TO DEATH BECAUSE HE TALKED

Execution Has Caused Unpleasant Impression in Haiti.

Cape Haitien, Haiti, April 11.—A feeble-minded youth of 22 years, today gave his life for the indiscretion of an anti-government utterance. The summary punishment meted out has made an unpleasant impression. Yesterday afternoon he harangued a crowd with sentiments distinctly revolutionary. Last night he was arrested. This morning he was executed.

How She Keeps Her Baby Healthy—Test Free

An easy way for any mother to raise sturdy children

So far back as the memory of man goes every mother has had her own peculiar ideas about how to keep her children healthy. But women are getting to agree on the main point more and more, and that is, that it is of first importance to keep the little one's bowels open.

From the bowels comes health or sickness. Unless a child is born diseased it can be kept healthy, and made to grow to vigorous maturity, if the bowels are kept free and pure in infancy and childhood. It is the main point for the mother to look after. The amount of romping and playing a child does keeps its bowels moving naturally, but there comes a time when they overeat or eat something that does not agree, and then a laxative is absolutely necessary.

Don't wait until matters get worse—give a laxative at once. What laxative are you going to give? Stewed fruit and things of that kind? No, not when the child is really constipated. Give a scientific laxative, a formula based on forty years of experience with children. Such a laxative is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which thousands of mothers are already giving in these emergencies. It is the mainstay of the children of Mrs. J. R. Whiting of Lena, Wis., Mrs. Chas. H. Reichert, Richmond Hill, L. I., and numerous others.

Don't give pills, tablets or strong cathartics, for the child doesn't need it. Go to your druggist and buy a fifty cent or one dollar bottle of Syrup Pepsin. It is mild, gentle, free from griping and exactly suited to the needs of infants and children. If you want to try it before buying write Dr. Caldwell and he will send you a free sample bottle. He has sent thousands such bottles to mothers.

Dr. Caldwell does not feel that the purchase of his remedy ends his obligation. He has specialized in stomach, liver and bowel diseases for over forty years and will be pleased to give the reader any advice on the subject free of charge. All are welcome to write him. Whether for the medical advice or the free sample address him Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 707 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

ROME OFFICIALS TO UNDERGO PROBE

Expenditures of Public Works Department Surprise Council.

Rome, Ga., April 11.—(Special.)—Astonished and alarmed by certain figures in the annual report of the board of public works, the city council last night authorized the mayor to appoint a committee to investigate the affairs of the board. The mayor appointed Messrs. Powers, May and McDonald, the finance committee, to investigate the board and report back to council.

Two particular items caused the trouble. One was the report of the board as to the street department. That department had an overdraft of $5,964.40. The report showed that during the year the board had spent $30,000 for permanent improvements and maintenance of the streets. The income had been $12,000 for permanent improvements, $8,000 for maintenance and $1,500 profits from the waterworks. This amount they had spent and nearly $10,000 more.

The other item of trouble was the report of the water works system. This report showed that the receipts of the system for the year had been $25,954. The book profit was about $8,000. Of this amount, however, $4,000 is represented by delinquent and uncollected water rents. As a result of the discussion the report of the board of public works was not received but was held over for investigation.

REGULARS KIND TO INSURGENTS

In Making Up the Committees of House.

Republican Leader Mann Allotted Many Important Assignments to the Insurgents. Election of Committees Causing Bitter Partisan Discussion

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, April 11.—(Special.)—The house today formally ratified the work of the democratic ways and means committee and of Republican Leader Mann, and in approving the new committee memberships took the last steps finally perfecting the organization of the house. That body is now ready to get down to business.

Former Speaker Cannon, who is named the ranking republican on the appropriations committee, of which he was at one time chairman, made a telling point against the democrats in congratulating them upon having preserved the committee organization practically as he had built it up while speaker. It is true that very few democratic members whom Uncle Joe had placed were disturbed, and this indorsement of his selections greatly elated the former speaker. Of course, the advantage of seniority was on the side of the democratic members who had formerly been assigned.

Democrats Accused of Unfairness.

The republicans charged the democrats with gross unfairness in cutting down the minority membership on the most important committees.

Mr. Underwood, the democratic leader, replied that the democrats had based the proportionate representation on the committees strictly according to the democratic majority in the house itself.

"This is, moreover," he said, "the first time a minority leader has been permitted to name his committees, and has had them adopted by the majority without dotting an 'i' or crossing a 't.'"

This statement was cheered loudly by the democrats.

Republican Leader Mann cited a number of alleged inconsistencies, and his arguments were seconded by Messrs. Cannon and Gardner, of Massachusetts.

Cannon Admits Mistakes.

"That I made mistakes in undoubtedly true," Mr. Cannon said. "But I was responsible for the organization of the committees, and I did it honestly. I have no apologies to make. I would like to see the speaker, or the ways and means committee, or the minority leader who could organize the committees without making mistakes. I have already heard rumblings on the democratic side. But, after all, you are not going to be judged by the committees you name, but by the legislation you accomplish."

Instructions to the new committees were adopted in the form of resolutions. The ways and means and appropriations committees of the house were authorized to sit during the sessions and recess of the house.

Regular Kind to Insurgents.

Prepared by Minority Leader James R. Mann at the direction of the republican caucus, the minority committee selections contained many surprises for the house. The desire to accord impartial treatment to the insurgent republicans is shown in the number of choice committee places given to them by Mr. Mann. Two of the leading insurgents, Representatives Madison, of Kansas, and Lenroot, of Wisconsin, are given places on the rules committee, where the republicans have but four places.

Representative Good, of Iowa, is appointed to the appropriations committee, considered a particularly choice berth. Representative Haugen, of Iowa, is made ranking republican member of the committee on agriculture; Representative Kopp, of Wisconsin, is placed on the naval affairs committee; Representative Norris, of Nebraska, on the judiciary committee, and other insurgents receive important assignments.

Cannon on Appropriations.

Former Speaker Cannon becomes ranking member of the appropriations committee. He was chairman of this committee for several years before he became speaker, and the retirement of James A. Tawney, recently, chairman of the committee, will probably make the former speaker the republican leader in debates on appropriation matters.

Minority Leader Mann took no committee assignments himself, and will act solely as chairman of the minority conference. His place as ranking member of the interstate and foreign commerce committee goes to Frederick C. Stevens, of Minnesota. The republican list includes the assignment of Victor L. Berger, the Wisconsin socialist, to the committee on District of Columbia affairs, and the assignment of Theron Akin, the New York independent democrat, the committee on education and on enrolled bills.

Ways and Means—Payne, New York; Dalzell, Pennsylvania; McCall, Massachusetts; Hill, Connecticut; Needham, California; Fordney, Michigan; Longworth, Ohio.

Appropriations—Cannon, of Illinois; Bingham, Pennsylvania; Gillett, Massachusetts; Taylor, Ohio; Malby, New York; Dwight, New York; Good, Iowa.

Rules—Dalzell, Pennsylvania; Wilson, Illinois; Madison, Kansas; Lenroot, Wisconsin.

BIBLES USED TO HIDE BOGUS MONEY PLANT

When Arrested Alleged Counterfeiter Said He Was Bible Salesman.

Chicago, April 11.—After the arrest of Andrew Buktus, on a charge of counterfeiting, United States secret service men today found a counterfeiting plant for raising $2 bills to $20 hidden under a pit of Bibles in Buktus' room. When arrested, Buktus said he was a Bible salesman. In a case under the Bibles was found a set of dies and tools.

ATLANTA AD MEN HONOR PARKHURST

Former President Is Elected to Honorary Life Membership.

The Atlanta Ad Men's Club paid a fitting compliment to William F. Parkhurst, its retired president, by unanimously electing him to honorary life membership at the regular bi-weekly meeting in Cafe Durand last night.

The club also presented Mr. Parkhurst with a handsome rosewood cane bound with chased silver and bearing his name and to Arthur C. Minter, the retiring secretary, who was the ex-president's able assistant, was given a fountain pen in filigree silver.

The address of the evening was delivered by J. C. McMichael, of the well-known advertising agency bearing his name. Mr. McMichael's subject was "Outlining a Campaign for Advertising." He presented some very valuable suggestions on the methods of conducting campaigns and declared that the use of common sense and ability to read human nature were the first requisites of success. He said that the daily newspaper in his opinion was the cornerstone of all successful advertising.

Previous to the address by Mr. McMichael the committee consisting of W. J. Davis, Ray Taylor and J. F. Nutting presented the resolutions paying tribute to Mr. Parkhurst's administration and asking his election to honorary life membership.

Both retiring officers were then surprised by being presented with the gifts as a token of the club's appreciation of their services.

President Paul P. Reese announced that at the next meeting there would be started a boom for the national meeting of ad men in Boston. The club will use its best endeavor in seeing that the city in which National President S. C. Dobb's lives will be well represented at the meeting.

Secretary Fred Houser announced the application of five for membership. They were William Markham, of the Travelers' Insurance Company; Edward A. Crane, of the United Shirt and Collar Company; H. E. Harman, Jr., of the Dixie Wood Worker; G. H. Gardner, of the Massengale Advertising Agency, and C. R. Underwood, of the American Writing Machine Company.

L. D. Hicks was named by President Reese as chairman of the executive committee.

VOLNEY BULLOCH TAKES OWN LIFE

Mind Had Been Failing for Some Time.

Mr. Bulloch Was Born in Augusta, Ga., and for a Number of Years Was Assistant to the Postmaster in Atlanta. Details of Life.

Anniston, Ala., April 11.—V. B. Bulloch, former assistant postmaster at Atlanta and son of ex-governor of Georgia, blew out his brains at the country home of J. A. Douglass, manager of the local office of the Southern Express Company, according to news received here this morning.

Mr. Bullock leaves a sister who is said to be rated several times a millionairess. This sister is Mrs. Leonard Kendall, who is now residing at Glenn Ridge, New Jersey, and it will be at her instance that the body will be sent to Albion, N. Y., for interment tomorrow afternoon, the body to be placed at rest beside the father and mother of the deceased, Ex-Governor and Mrs. Bulloch.

Mr. Bulloch only recently became seriously unbalanced. His relatives had begun to fear him and they moved from the house in which he took his life Monday morning.

Details of the act have not been received here, though it is known that Bulloch's mind had been failing for some time, and this fact, together with grief over the death of a close relative last week, is believed to answer for the deed.

Volkerck Veeder Bulloch was one of three children born to Governor and Mrs. R. B. Bulloch. Born in Augusta, he passed the greater part of his life in Atlanta, where he was widely and favorably known.

Probably his first business venture in Atlanta was the publication of a city directory. That was back in the seventies. After that he was secretary to the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce when that strong body of today was in its infancy. When Edwin F. Blodgett was appointed postmaster for Atlanta the last time, Volney Bulloch, as he was called by his friends, was named as his assistant, and while he occupied that position he added new friends by his uniform courtesy and kindness to everyone. Especially popular was he with other employees of the postoffice, while he held the implicit confidence of the Atlanta postmaster and the postoffice officials.

Governor Bulloch and Postmaster Blodgett's father, Foster Blodgett, had been friends for years, and to Postmaster Blodgett, Vol Bulloch was almost like a son.

When Postmaster Blodgett's term was out, Vol Bulloch moved to Anniston, where he had some relatives, and together with one of them, J. A. Douglas, bought a farm near that city. It was on this farm that he killed himself.

Hugh Bulloch, Volney Bulloch's only brother, died some ten years ago at Charleston, R. I., while his only sister is now residing at Green Bank, N. J.

Vol Bulloch was assistant postmaster when he was advised that his father was dying at the family home in Albion, N. Y. He started at once, but arrived after his father's death.

Emma Bunting.
(At the Grand.)

After an indisposition that prevented her taking part in the first performance of "Girls," Miss Emma Bunting has recovered sufficiently to assume her part in the cast at the Grand. She took the part of Pamela Gordon at the Tuesday matinee and night performance, and was roundly applauded for her clever work. The selection by the company of this rollicking comedy and the pleasing way in which Director Warren Hill staged it, have made a distinct hit, and patrons of the Grand have a clever attraction to look forward to for the week.

"East Lynne."
(At the Lyric.)

The cordial reception that has been given "East Lynne" this week at the Lyric is only a repetition of the cordial manner in which the well-known and popular drama is being received as a revival in all parts of the United States. Since East Lynne was written years ago, few dramatic productions have found so great favor with the public at large. It is a play that runs the gamut of every human emotion, and presented by a good company, as it is this week at the Lyric, it will always bring great crowds to the theater. A splendid company and an excellent production are to be seen this week at the Lyric, and weather permitting, there are indications for a splendid week's business.

"Three Twins."
(At the Orpheum.)

"Three Twins" will be the offering at the Orpheum on next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, giving a matinee on Wednesday. This musical comedy has created a sensation in both Chicago and New York and comes to us with the indorsement of a metropolitan success. "Three Twins" had a run of five months at the Whitney Theater in Chicago, and one year at th Herald Square Theater in New York, where the "S. R. O." sign was displayed nightly. "Three Twins" is said to be the best musical offering of the season.

Keith Vaudeville.
(At the Forsyth.)

As usual Manager Cardoza has picked one of his best acts to start the ball rolling at the busy Forsyth this week, and the man or woman who fails to see Mlle. Omega in her daring tight wire stunt will miss a most interesting part of the performance. William Farnum and company offer a feature act that has been the headliner at the best houses in the United States. This act is supported by a number of clever acts, especially striking being the comedy of Conroy and Lemaire in their description of what a pinochle game might be, or what they think it ought to be.

"Mrs. Pifflegilder boasts that she is connected with some of the best families in the city."

"Ah! She has a telephone."

FAILED AS OWN ATTORNEY, BUT HIS LAWYERS SUCCEED

Digressing for a moment from consideration of the question at hand, Judge Russell, of the court of appeals, in a decision handed down yesterday morning, took occasion to stress the potency of the adage that "he who pleads his own case has a fool for a client."

The decision was rendered in the case of Bob Saylor, of Whitfield county, who was convicted of violating the prohibition law. Saylor conducted his own defense and was convicted and the judge overruled his motion for a new trial.

Then Saylor tested the efficacy of lawyers by employing three well-known attorneys to take his case to the court of appeals.

The effectiveness of the point made by Judge Russell is emphasized by the fact that where Saylor failed his lawyers succeeded. The court of appeals held that the judge of the lower court should have granted the motion for a new trial on ground of newly-discovered evidence. The judgment was reversed.

BLACKBURN FAMILY MOURNS SUDDEN DEATH OF BILLIE

An atmosphere of solemnity and deep quietude broods over the home of Benjamin M. Blackburn, executive secretary in the office of Governor Brown; the shutters are drawn, members of the family tread softly as they pass to and fro; the merry laughter of little children is stilled to a subdued whisper, and under the shadow of the roses in the back yard there is a fresh mound of earth upon which the violets will wave when summer's sunshine and showers send them bursting into bloom.

For William Randolph Hearst, better known as "Billie," the black and tan terrier, idol of Mr. Blackburn's household, has been gathered to his fathers. In acknowledgment of the powerful quieting effect contained in the right hind heel of a mule "Billie" laid down with a fractured skull Monday afternoon and died.

In trying to rescue his pet from under the heels of the mule Mr. Blackburn also sustained a very painful injury, the iron-clad hoof of the animal landing with great force upon the wrist of his right hand. Fortunately no bones were broken.

"Billie" was named after William Randolph Hearst, whom Mr. Blackburn greatly admires. He was the pet of the entire neighborhood and was laid away with appropriate ceremonies under the flowers in the back yard at Mr. Blackburn's home.

CHICKENS AND CRABS KILLED BY BATTLESHIPS

When the Texas Was Destroyed in Chesapeake Bay.

Norfolk, Va., April 11.—The killing of many unhatched chickens and hard-shell crabs by the 12-inch guns of the battleship New Hampshire when they sank the old battleship San Marcos (formerly the Texas) in Tangier sound, Chesapeake bay, has caused farmers and crab packers of the eastern shore of Virginia and Maryland to protest against similar tests in the future.

MURDOCK AIMS BLOW AT "LEAVE TO PRINT"

He Wants to Stop Practice of Printing Speeches Never Delivered.

Washington, April 11.—Representative Murdock, the militant Kansas insurgent, today aimed a deadly blow at the time-honored custom which permits members of congress to print "speeches" in the Congressional Record that never were delivered in the house. Mr. Murdock proposed that hereafter the Record shall show in plain, black-faced type, that such speeches were not actually spoken, but appear under a "leave to print."

He believes a resolution introduced today to that effect will pass the house despite the fact that it would destroy one of the greatest assets of the obscure congressman who prints speeches for home consumption and campaign purposes. Heretofore many of the printed speeches have been filled with parenthetical remarks of "loud and prolonged applause," "laughter," etc. The new rule would expose this vainglorious custom. Consequently Mr. Murdock found himself quite unpopular in some circles this afternoon.

Liberal Member Unseated.

London, April 11.—As a result of a scrutiny of the votes cast in Exeter at the last election another liberal member of the house of commons, Richard St. Maur has been unseated. Henry Edward Duke, the former unionist member, was declared elected by a majority of one. A number of ballots on both sides were thrown out because of illegal payment in connection with campaign expenses.

There is urgent need of a clean, healthy condition of the teeth. Did you ever realize that your mouth was the gateway of your body and that the teeth are the guards in the gateway? Do you know that one's health is never better than his teeth? It is a fact.

LISTEN!

When the numerous bacteria of the mouth begin to multiply, due to unclean conditions rendering the mucous membrane susceptible to specific fever germs, you swallow these germs every minute and infect your digestive organs. No wonder stomach troubles result.

If you are seeking good health the FIRST thing to do is to keep your mouth in hygienic condition—disinfected with the well-known mouth antiseptic:

HIS LOVE COOLED IN FIRELESS ROOM

Old Married Men and Young Grooms on "Way to Reno."

Because his wife refused to let him sleep in the room where there was a fire, and made him go into a cold room, T. F. Arnall, after twenty-six years of married life with Mrs. Lula D. Arnall, has entered suit for divorce in the Fulton superior court.

He says that they were married August 4, 1885, and lived together, "after a fashion," until October 17, 1910.

During the summer of 1910, he says, his wife began to abuse him and treat him cruelly, in that she spoke harshly to him before his children, often agreeing to move into the home which he was to provide, and then refusing to do so.

In addition, when he was sick, she would make him remain in a cold room on cold nights, away from any fire; and would give him no attention whatever. She would not prepare him any food, he complains, or even let his daughter do so; though he had bought and paid for the food. She insulted him, he said, by telling him that the house was her house, and that he had to do as she said.

He says he is willing to take his children, and care for them as best he can.

Married But Not Happy.

After only sixteen days of matrimony, in which his wife treated him cruelly and indifferently, Early Farmer, according to his petition for divorce filed yesterday in the superior court, was abandoned by Mary King Turner.

Before she left, however, she made things most uncomfortable for him in divers ways, according to the petition. Though he was kind and affectionate to her, he says, she absolutely refused to cook him any meals; and he himself was forced to get his breakfast before he went to work in the morning, and to prepare his food when he returned at night. In addition, she told him that she did not love him; never had loved him; had no use for him, and did not want him around.

Matrimony and Alcohol.

Seven weeks of matrimony, which were also seven weeks of alcoholic celebration for the groom, were more than enough for Mamie Turner Simmons, wife of Walter Simmons, and yesterday she filed suit for divorce against her husband, alleging cruel treatment. She says that she was married November 19, 1910, and that on the day after the wedding her husband got drunk, and stayed continuously so.

Whitaker when arraigned in the criminal district court announced he had no counsel and was not ready to go to trial.

Seven girls, ranging in age from 7 to 14 years, who are being held as witnesses against Whitaker, were in court. Admittance was refused to the morbid and curious and a large detail of police was on hand to guarantee order at the trial.

DEATH RATE OF INFANTS NEARLY 50 PER CENT

New York, April 11.—An increase of nearly 50 per cent in the death rate of infants suffering from disenteric diseases in New York is shown in the report of the department of health for the first quarter of 1911. The increase has taken place almost wholly in the institutions and hospitals where children are cared for, the report states, the greatest increase being in the borough of Manhattan.

In 1910, according to the report, there were 77 deaths in institutions and 19 in private families in Manhattan; in 1911 there were 200 deaths in institutions and 127 in private families. Of these, 110 deaths occurred in institutions in March.

No reason is given for the increase.

Fire at Powder Springs.

Powder Springs, Ga., April 11.—(Special.)—John McKenny, lost his barn, together with a large quantity of feed, last night by fire. The loss is about $700, with insurance. A passing Seaboard train gave the alarm, which allowed Mr. Kenny to get out his horses and live stock. The fire was very likely of incendiary origin, but there is no clue to the guilty party.

Jailed for Theft of Horse.

Macon, Ga., April 11.—(Special.)—Earle Oversby, of Cochran, a young white man, is in jail for the theft of a horse and buggy belonging to J. J. Broxton. Overby was arrested at Lizella by Sheriff Hicks as he accommitted the theft while Mr. Broxton was inside of the ball park attending a game.

TO FIGHT INCREASE IN SWITCHING RATE

Atlanta Merchants Organize to Save About $100,000 a Year.

Strongly opposed to the effort of the railroads to advance the $2 switching rate, members of the Atlanta Freight Bureau and interested dealers met yesterday morning and outlined plans to fight the increase, hearing for which will be had before the railroad commission April 20.

The following committee of seven was appointed to act for the 500, or more, dealers affected by the increase in Atlanta:

J. C. Gentry, of the Atlanta Ice and Coal Corporation, chairman; W. H. White, of the White Provision Company; A. W. Hodnett, of the Duncan-Hodnett Grain Company; Clyde T. King, of the Atlanta Agricultural Works! P. H. Randall, of Randall Brothers' Coal Company; B. M. Blount, of the White Hickory Wagon Manufacturing Company, and J. W. Zuber, the lumber dealer.

This committee meets Wednesday afternoon in the bureau offices to draw up the dealers' contention and to arrange for an early meeting, so that proper disapproval of the increase may be voiced.

The committee will hold daily meetings until the hearing to prepare for a determined attack on the increase. Counsel W. A. Wimbish sat at the meeting.

The increase proposed will be from $5 to $25 per car, and will, if put in effect, mean an item of something like $100,000 annually for the dealers who located on the outskirts of the city with the understanding that the $2 rule would remain.

SHALL CHURCHES PAY FOR SEWERS?

Question Precipitates Lively Discussion at a Committee Meeting.

Shall churches pay assessments for sewers laid in front of their property was the question which caused the sewer committee of council to split even yesterday afternoon after a very lively discussion.

The question came up in a petition from the church of the United Brethren, corner McDaniel and Hightower streets, in which relief from all sewer assessments was asked.

"That's a poor little church," said Councilman McClelland, "and I move to grant the petition."

"The rule of council has been to make churches pay one-fourth of the where ti will probably cause another Chambers.

Then the talk grew very spirited as well as spiritual, and the result was that Alderman Maddox and Councilman Baker and McClelland voted to take off all the cost, and Alderman Kelley and Councilmen Chambers and Curtis voted to make the church pay one-fourth of the cost.

The question will go before council, wheer it will probably cost another lively debate.

Mr. G. Holman Gardner has just returned from a visit to the schools of Alabama, among others Starke University School, and the Woman's College of Alabama, Montgomery; The Judson Institute, Marion Institute, and the Presbyterian College at Marion, Ala.

Mr. Gardner reports that the Alabama schools are in a flourishing condition and are making very material improvement in the way of new buildings and general equipment.

It is an interesting fact that most of the boys' preparatory schools of the south are adopting the military feature, and in most instances are stressing this department.

A further interesting development in our southern schools is the increased attention now being paid to physical culture and systematic gymnasium work, not only in the schools for boys but also for young women. The remarkable growth of domestic science teaching in the schools of the south is a most favorable sign of the times, and means much for the coming generation. The term Domestic Science includes not only the teachings of so many cooking lessons, as is ordinarily understood by this term, but an intelligent appreciation of the chemical values of food, and the many chemical processes involved in its proper preparation.

Mr. Gardner was very much impressed with the splendid showing made by the Alabama Polytechnic Institute at Auburn recently in a government inspection of its military status. There are now about eight companies at this splendid school for young men, and the military feature is most admirably carried out. While the public, generally, is familiar with the splendid merits of the Auburn school as a technical institution, yet very few realize that Auburn has one of the most efficient military organizations in the south. The report of Captain Cootes on Auburn's military status is most favorable

Ben Hill Superior Court.

Fitzgerald, Ga., April 11.—(Special.) Superior court convened this morning after adjournment from last week. The grand jury made twenty-one indictments which will be under consideration. Last evening about 5 o'clock three members of the city council made a raid on a small building in teh rear of the Jasamine hotel, which has been used as sleeping quarters for some of the hired help. Something aroused the suspicion of Messrs. Seanor, Adams and Ware and on investigating they found a barrel of bottled ale, which they confiscated, causing the officer who was with them to arrest Jim Nix, the negro who was in charge of the place. The proprietor of the hotel is J. H. Mays, but he denies all knowledge of the goods being on his premises and the negro will have to face the charge.

More to Announce.

Macon, Ga., April 11.—(Special.)—Mayor Moore is expected to announce his candidacy for re-election in a few days. His present term will expire December 18. There is much public interest as to the naming of his aldermanic ticket, as eight of the present council will not offer for re-election. So far there has been no announcement of opposition to Mayor Moore.

$752,541 IS ASKED BY GUANO COMPANY

Suit Is Filed Alleging Breach of Contract.

Suit on a breach of contract, involving $752,541, has been entered in the Fulton superior court by the F. S. Royston Guano Company against the International Agricultural Corporation, Cadwaller J. Collins, King & Spalding & Underwood and Anderson, Felder, Rountree & Wilson being the imposing array of legal talent for the plaintiff.

The guano company claims that an agreement was entered into with the agricultural corporation whereby the latter was to furnish the former with 12,000 tons of K20, that is pure potash, and that after the contract had been drawn, except to the quantities, the agricultural corporation refused to sign the papers.

By reason of this the guano company says that it was compelled to purchase large quantities of potasn salts in the open market at a cost of $1,013,193.16.

The petition is a very lengthy one, going much into detail, but the plaintiff asks for recompense in the sum of $752,541.

DEMOCRATS TEST MEN FOR READING CLERKS

Unusual Physical Endowments Required for the Positions.

Washington, April 11.—One of the interesting features in connection with the democratic organization of the house of representatives is the contest for two positions of reading clerk, each of which carries with it a salary of $4,000 a year. The places require unusual physical endowments, as well as a knowledge of parliamentary custom and the house is trying out many candidates to find competent successors to E. J. Lampson, of Ohio, and Dennis E. Alward, of Michigan, who have been there for more than fifteen years.

Four new men participated in the trials today during the regular proceedings of the house. Some of them were easily heard, while others had difficulty in satisfying the democrats. The trials began before the close of the republican congress, but no selections have been made.

VETERAN OF SIXTIES SLEEPS UNDER TREES

Arrested by Police, He Agrees to Go Home, and Is Dismissed.

In the early '60s, when the twenty-fifth Georgia, commanded by Colonel Rutledge, was stormed with shot and shell, there was no soldier in the command who fought more valiantly for his company and his flag than did R. B. Williams.

That is the first chapter to this little story.

The second chapter is a grizzled veteran of the war, without home, without money and without friends, sleeping with only the branches of the trees to shield him from the rain and cold night wind. This veteran was the same R. B. Williams who fought with the twenty-fifth Georgia. Monday night he was awakened from his cold sleep in the woods by the glare of a burning railroad shack in the outskirts of the city and he crept to the fire to get warm. There he was found by a policeman, who sent him to the barracks in order that the old man might be given some kind of a home.

Williams was arraigned in the police court yesterday morning and his story was told to the recorder. It was stated that the old man came from Greensboro, Ga., and had been in the soldiers' home, but acted so badly that he was turned out.

As the old veteran stated he was willing to go back home, the recorder directed that steps be taken for the city to furnish him transportation.

DODSON COMPANY PLANS NEW HOME

Printers' Supply Concern Buys Big Lot on Whitehall Street.

Dodson's Printers' Supply Company has purchased a large lot on Whitehall street south of Gordon street and will erect a handsome business building thereon in the near future. The company, it is understood, has found its present quarters at 55-57 South Forsyth street too small, and expects to erect a building adequate to the demands the business will put upon it.

The property purchased by the company has a frontage of 250 feet on Whitehall street and is just south of the lot now occupied by the Western Electric Company, which faces both Whitehall and Lee streets. Four lots formerly owned by Mrs. M. J. Van Dyke, W. A. Foster and W. M. Spratling make up the purchase of the company. R. L. Turman, of the S. B. Turman Company, negotiated the deal.

The Dodson company will erect a three-story concrete fire-proof building, it is said. The structure will also contain a commodious basement. It will cost in the neighborhood of $35,000, it is understood, and will be one of the most modern and substantial business buildings in the city.

EVERY BOX OF LEMONS HITS THE TARIFF LAW

Protest Against Payne-Aldrich Measure Carried by Every Imported Box.

New York, April 11.—Practically every box of lemons brought into the United States from foreign ports now carries to its consumers a message protesting against the nigh rate in the Payne-Aldrich tariff on lemons. Beginning this week the Fruit Importers' Union, stationed men with stencils on all the piers where shipments of lemons arrive, and they will paint on each box a pithy protest against the tariff rate.

"If lemons were free this box would cost you $1.26 less."

Others are: "The tariff is squeezing me."

"Revise the tariff and get me cheaper."

"If the tariff squeezes me much more I won't come here," and "The tariff is making us sour on the United States."

NO OFFICIAL STATEMENT ABOUT FATAL EXPLOSION

Recovery of Bodies Is Still Going on at Banner Mines.

Banner, Ala., April 11.—No statement in regard to the cause of or anything else about the explosion in the mines at Banner is made by Dr. J. A. Holmes, chief of the federal bureau of mines, who has started on his way back to Washington, after going through every part of the ill-fated place near here. The official report will come from the state officials.

The recovery of bodies is still on, and more than one hundred are now out. Deputy Sheriff Dave Kennebecook this morning discovered a number of negroes from adjoining mining camps going through clothing of victims of the explosion. The negroes had forgotten that the clothing was worn by convicts, and would hardly contain any valuables. For fear that disease might be spread, the ghoulish negroes were threatened with arrest if they did not withdraw at once.

BLOCKING STATEHOOD FOR NEW MEXICO

Senator Owen Will Fight the Amendment Feature of Constitution.

Washington, April 11.—A fight on the amendment feature of the New Mexico constitution probably will delay its ratification by the senate. Senator Owen announced today that he would introduce a new resolution providing that before the president shall issue a proclamation admitting New Mexico and Arizona into the union, the people of New Mexico shall vote on a proposed amendment to the constitution. He contends that, as framed, the constitution is impossible of popular amendment in any important particular, and he declared today he would not consent to its ratification unless the proposed provision, making it possible for a majority of the people to change their constitution and prohibiting corrupt practices, is adopted.

MEDALS ARE PRESENTED TWENTY-FOUR FIREMEN

Gaynor Says New York Police and Fire Departments Best in World.

New York, April 11.—In the presence of many women and children whom they had rescued, twenty-four firemen were presented with medals today for brave work during 1910-11. Mayor Gaynor, in presenting the medals, said that the New York fire and police departments were the best in the world. As to criticism of the polce, he said:

"We have succeeded in taking $3,000,000 from the liquor graft and as many more millions from the gambling graft, and I tell you that those who are losing that graft are the people who are making the biggest noise."

The Pennsylvania and Pittsburg and Lake Erie Are Indicted.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 11.—Indictments were returned today against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and the Pittsburg and Lake Erie Railroad Company by the federal grand jury in the United States district court. The charges are of a criminal nature and involve the alleged failure by an interstate carrier to observe the tariffs filed with the interstate commerce commission and with unlawfully granting concessions in the matter of demurrage charges. Upon conviction the maximum fines may aggregate $400,000 against each of the corporations.

BLIND TIGER AGITATION CAUSES ALBANY CHIEF TO QUIT OFFICE

Albany, Ga., April 11.—(Special.)—One of the greatest political surprises in the history of Albany was sprung today when it became known that the resignation of Chief of Police R. N. Westbrook had been placed in the hands of the board of police commissioners. Chief Westbrook confirmed the report when seen, but stated that the police commission had taken no action in the matter.

That blind tigers are responsible for the retirement of Chief Westbrook is indicated in statements which he made this afternoon. He said:

"I am getting tired of this blind-tiger question. At every meeting of the commissioners, one of its members brings it up, and complains about nothing being done. I finally told them that I would be glad to have them try the experiment, and see how much better some other man could handle the problem.

"When the commission did not want me to resign, I offered to retire for a stated period, say sixty or ninety days, and let some other man take a hand.

"Whether they will take any action or not, I do not know, but it's now up to them. My resignation has been tendered, and it's up to them to say what shall be done with it."

WOMEN BUSY RAISING FUNDS FOR BESSIE TIFT COLLEGE

Forsyth, Ga., April 11.—(Special.)—Can a woman become an orator? The question has been answered, and proven by Miss Mattie Morris, who is making a tour of the state in the movement for a $360,000 endowment fund for Bessie Tift college, the famous old Baptist girls' school at Forsyth.

Miss Morris, though slight of physique, and by no means of the "suffragette" type so often caricatured, has been addressing audiences all over the state, sometimes making three or four addresses in one day, and through her eloquence and the power of her argument has secured liberal subscriptions from every point she has visited. Rev. R. A. Lansdell, who, with Rev. Mr. Holley, is accompanying her on the tour, is another active worker in the campaign.

The college, which is owned outright by the Baptist church of Georgia, is receiving hearty support from Baptists all over the state. H. H. Tift, the millionaire lumberman, of Tifton, has promised $20,000 to the fund for each $100,000 subscribed by others, and he will soon be called upon for his first payment of $20,000.

"GOOD-BY FOR LITTLE WHILE," WADE TENNENT TELLS FRIENDS

"Don't worry; it will be only a few months until he can come back to you," said Sheriff J. G. Mischki, of Ottawa, Ill., yesterday as he climbed into the Dixie Flyer with Wade B. Tennent, who goes back to stand trial for murder.

"Goodby for a little while," smiled Tennent himself, as he confidently waved farewell to his assembled brothers and sister, who have stood by him so nobly and who are planning a strong fight for his release.

The parting was one of the most unique which the city has ever seen. Without handcuffs or any restrictions, practically unguarded, as the sheriff allowed him to walk about as he chooses, a slayer who voluntarily surrendered himself to the law and willingly goes back to trial without demanding requisition papers or other legal formality, left the city for the scene of his crime.

The train was met at Marietta by a large group of Tennent's childhood friends, who wished him godspeed and good luck.

NO CITY OFFICIAL HURRIES IN WORKING, SAYS ALDERMAN

That there is no city official who hurries while he works is the opinion of Alderman Warren, according to a statement he made at a meeting of council yesterday afternoon.

The alderman also laid down the rule that whenever a fellow once gest into a city job it is for life.

The cause of this position by the alderman was a resolution by Councilman Greer calling for an expenditure of $250 with which to employ additional help for the chief of construction until the first of July. Councilman Greer said that more help was needed and should be had.

Alderman Warren said he saw the men in the office of the chief of construction taking their time, and then he added about no city official being in a hurry.

The resolution of Councilman Greer was referred to the finance committee

INTERURBAN LINE FOR NORTH GEORGIA

New York Capitalists Plan New Route From Dalton to Chattanooga.

Dalton, Ga., April 11.—(Special.)—That the much discussed interurban line from Dalton to Chattanooga will be one of the probabilities of the near future was learned today.

A company of New York capitalists is said to have the matter under serious consideration and that they have gone so far as to secure rough details of the most feasible route. Heretofore the plans of former projectors have come to naught by virtue of the fact that former projectors were unable to secure franchises into Chattanooga for one reason or another.

It is now argued that the new company will have no difficulty on this score, because it proposes to buy electric power from the Oconee Power company and that one of the owners of the Oconee Power company is also the owner of the Chattanooga Railway company and an entrance into Chattanooga can be made by using the rails of the Chattanooga Railway company, either from Chickamauga Park or at Boyce or connect with it, using the nearly completed tunnel under Mission Ridge.

It is gathered that the interurban would cross the W. & A. R. R. tracks two miles above Ringgold running south to the bend of Chickamauga creek just south of Ringgold, thence in a southeasterly direction to a point about half a mile southwest of Catoosa Springs, thence south. The line it is said might cross into Hamilton street upon reaching north Dalton.

DECLARES SIN DISEASE WORSE THAN SMALLPOX

In spite of the rainy, disagreeable weather conditions which prevailed last night, a fair-sized audience was present to hear the Rev. Bob Jones preach at St. Paul's Methodist church.

The subject of the discourse was "The Disease of Sin and the Healing Touch." The minister declared that sin is by all odds the most prevalent and at the same time the most violent and ravaging disease to which mankind is subject.

"The prevalence of sin is more widespread and more damaging than smallpox," he said, "still it is viewed with not so much as half the concern as is felt over smallpox." He pointed out the sure cure for sin.

The usual morning and evening services will continue throughout the week, beginning in the morning at 10 o'clock and in the evening at 7:30 o'clock.

ORDINANCE COMMITTEE ACTS ON MANY PAPERS

The ordinance committee of council yesterday afternoon acted upon the following papers:

A resolution calling for a charter amendment so civil service can be instituted in the health department was held up for "further consideration."

A charter amendment resolution to give the general council the power to fill vacancies in both the council and the aldermanic board was acted upon favorably without any amendment allowing the people to hold ward elections.

An ordinance to change the hours city employees should work on Saturdays was reported adversely, the present law being considered all right.

YOUTH TESTIFIES TO SEEING SHOOTING

Anniston, Ala., April 11.—Leon Dyer, a 17-year-old lad, was the star witness for the prosecution today in the case of Dr. John E. Pearce, on trial for his alleged part in the killing of J. and Sarge Kennedy.

Dyer testified that he heard Will Kennedy, father and grandfather, respectively, of the dead men, give the command to shoot. He declared he saw Dr. Pearce fire, and saw J. Kennedy fall.

He also said he saw Cross Pearce, son of the doctor, and who also is under indictment, kill Sarge Kennedy.

Weapons and bullet-ridden garments were exhibited in court.

JOHNSON TO REST BY HENRY GEORGE

All Cleveland Mourning For the Dead Mayor.

And Scores of Telegrams Are Being Received From Prominent Men Expressing Their Regrets---Johnson Smiled Almost to the Very Last.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 11.—The body of former Mayor Tom L. Johnson, who died last night, will be interred Thursday in the Johnson family lot, Greenwood cemetery, at Brooklyn, in the shadow of the monument that marks the grave of Henry George, the "single-taxer," whose disciple Johnson was.

In accordance with the dead man's wishes, there will be no public services here, and Cleveland's only opportunity to pay tribute to the former mayor will come Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, when the body will be taken from the Johnson family apartments to the station to be sent to Brooklyn.

The funeral services will be held at 11:30 o'clock Thursday morning at Greenwood cemetery. Rev. Harris R. Cooley, a close friend of Mr. Johnson, and head of the city administration's correctional department while he was mayor, will officiate.

All Cleveland Mourns.

All Cleveland is mourning the death of Tom L. Johnson, which occurred last night. A public memorial is planned. Mayor Herman Baiher announced he would appoint a committee today to arrange for it. The body will lie in state tomorrow.

Scores of telegrams expressing condolence and paying tribute to the worth of Mr. Johnson have come from prominent men in all parts of the country, including Governor Judson Harmon, William J. Bryan, Senator Burton, Senator Atlee Pomerene, Mayor Brand Whitlock of Toledo, Mayor William J. Gaynor of New York, and nearly every congressman from Ohio.

Governor Harmon said:

"A more honest man than Mr. Johnson never lived."

Mr. Bryan: "No man in the past generation did more effective work for the people than Tom L. Johnson."

Johnson's Last Autograph.

During his last illness Mr. Johnson was requested to write his autograph in the birthday book of Miss Louise Graham, a friend of the family. Commenting on the paragraph he selected, Mr. Johnson said he "hoped it would be so," and signed his name to the following quotation:

"His face was a thanksgiving for his past life and a love letter to all mankind."

When Arthur Fuller, the chauffeur for Mr. Johnson, visited the patient Sunday afternoon he remarked that his employer was still smiling.

"Yes, Arthur, I'm dying, but I still have my smile, and I am going to die smiling," replied the former mayor.

And he did.

PHILADELPHIA CORRUPT AND CONTENTED WITH IT

Cambridge, Mass., April 11.—"Philadelphia is not only corrupt, but contented in its corruption; the earthquake and fire did not rid San Francisco of civic evils, and Boston still loves the open saloon, bombards the legislature with subs for the bar and bottle bill, and opposes the Puritan Sabbath."

In these words the Rev. Dr. E. T. Turnick, chairman of the evangelization board of the New England Methodists condemns the three cities in his annual report. Resolutions embodying his condemnation have been adopted by the New England Methodist conference.

Dry Shampoo Better Than Soap and Water

(From The New York Graphic.)

"Once in two or three months is as often as it is advisable to wash the hair with soap and water," says Claribel Montague, the beauty expert. "The rubbing, drying and rinsing, together with the action of the alkali in the soap—especially the alkali—tend to make the hair coarse, hard and brittle. Too much moisture causes the hair to become thin and lose its color.

"A simple and satisfactory dry shampoo is made by mixing four ounces of powdered orris root with four ounces of therox. Sprinkle a tablespoonful of this mixture on the head and brush thoroughly through the hair once or twice a week. That is all there is to it. This treatment not only keeps the hair light, fluffy and lustrous, but therox produces the growth of new hair."

The Weather Is All Right

EASTER SUNDAY is not a fixed festival. From now until the year 2,000 it falls on the same date only three or four times.

The lunar months in the JEWISH calendar control the sacred CHRISTIAN event.

In years when EASTER comes late—as the present one—the winter is mild but prolonged.

The globe is subject to constant changes. Why not the climate?

Sulphur, bitumen, nitre and iron, enclosed within the bowels of the earth have changed the physical aspects of vast and wide-lying areas. Mountains have been leveled to plains and plains have been raised to mountains.

Cities have been overturned, oceans have been absorbed, continents have been swallowed—floods, deluges, eruptions, convulsions and cataclysms have left little of our original globe intact.

The heavenly bodies have been cutting up high jinks, too. The sun has been invading new constellations. The starry RAM and BULL have changed places and the LION is out of plumb. MARS is retrograding; VENUS is stationary. SUN and MOON have had eclipses. We think H. COMET caused all the confusion. A purple snow-storm wouldn't be much of a surprise.

Melba Rose Blush; Light, Odorless, Rubberless, Unshrinkable "OMO" Dress Shields and Anomalies Known as Dustless Dusters.

We have with us three strangers. They are sound types of the modern AMERICAN BUSINESS WOMAN—earnest, alert, patient, intelligent—seriously endeavoring to take care of themselves and those dependent on them by cheerfully assuming responsibilities that would stagger the average man.

DEMONSTRATORS OF MERCHANDISE occupy positions of great importance and dignity.

They have never been properly classified in the minds of the careless, unthinking public. Their REAL place has never been clearly defined in the economy of trade.

Individual merit fixes their status. Manufacturers having millions of dollars invested entrust to these women the arduous and delicate task of TEACHING the world the value of their products.

The woman who undertakes such work has proven her worth. Her grit has been tested. She has won the RESPECT and the CONFIDENCE of men whose power and wealth are largely the result of a penetrating cock-sureness of human character.

DEMONSTRATORS are invariably ASCENDING WOMEN—women whose personal qualities irresistibly bear them toward the centre of activity. They are efficient, magnetic, in harmony and sympathy with the spirit of the times.

The puerile, absurd, indeterminate woman is never chosen to demonstrate. The woman who is merely beautiful cannot possibly succeed in such an occupation. Art, high courage and mental poise are indispensable.

One of the women now with us will tell you about MELBA TOILET ARTICLES.

Frankly, we do not recommend the ROUGE habit.

We think women are God's most perfect creatures. When the biologist declares we are descended from apes, we gaze at MEN for confirmation of the statement—never at women.

"MELBA ROSE BLUSH GIVES THE TRUE BLOOD TINT." That's the alluring claim made by the manufacturer. Wouldn't it be more convenient for women to have TRUE BLOOD than to resort to the applied ROSE BLUSH? Keep your blood moving as fast as the Coosa river and your complexion will be all right. It is when you stop walking and indulge a generous appetite that your blood stagnates and you go to your little jar of MELBA to regain your cheeks' lost hue of health.

Is ROUGE error? It makes women SEEM to have that which they haven't. But scientists agree that ALL appearances are deceitful. There is no such thing as an absolutely SMOOTH plane. Look at your face in a mirror. The image appears to be BEHIND the glass. It is neither behind it nor before it. The mirror itself SEEMS to have a perfectly flat surface. It is really full of curves and projections. Magnify a mirror a few million times and it becomes a sphere. The finest and fairest skin is bristled network. The openings enclose minute hairs. Under the network are liquors that discharge exhalations which cover the whole surface.

You may say "I am not ROUGED, it only SEEMS to you that I am."

The laws of optics are constantly operative. The sun is a million times larger than this little world. But to us it SEEMS to be about two feet in diameter.

If your eye could collect his rays at an angle as great as his disk, you could see it in its true dimensions.

If you don't mind SEEMING to be ROUGED and POWDERED the DEMONSTRATOR will give you much valuable information. She will massage your face, instruct you how to apply the bloom with science and skill. A woman with a full, round face must not use ROUGE in the same way that a woman with thin, hollow cheeks does. If your face SEEMS to show lines caused by illness, care or age, Miss Whitlock will teach you fifteen strokes that will rub out the illusions. NO CHARGE.

Another DEMONSTRATOR will tell you of the OMO SHIELDS. They are made of light, odorless material indigenous to the tropics and impervious to moisture. Being non-elastic they fit the dress perfectly and will not wrinkle like SHIELDS made of rubber.

There are many technical details you should know about SHIELDS.

Garments are injured by SHIELDS not being large enough. With a little care you can determine the proper size to use.

If you notice perspiration stains near the binding, there is danger of an overflow.

OMO SHIELDS may be had in many styles and shapes for thin, medium and stout women—and there are special ones designed for evening frocks, sheer shirtwaists, and walking suits. Several weights—plain or daintily trimmed with lace, cut high or cut low, to be sewed on or attached without sewing.

The DEMONSTRATOR will explain.

MR. F. A. HOWARD is a chemist living in Boston. He is also a public benefactor. Like many other great discoveries, the DUSTLESS DUSTER was an accident. While at work upon a mixture which apparently had no commercial value he produced a nondescript fluid that possesses the following peculiar properties.

Particles of dust were found to adhere so securely that they could not be shaken or beaten out.

Woods, metals, glass, leather, and other smooth surfaces would take a high polish from friction made by it.

When once treated, it was impossible to remove the properties, boiling water, soap, or other chemicals having no effect upon it.

The fabric would wear many times as long as the same untreated.

HOWARD'S DUSTLESS DUSTER is the only chemically-treated cloth that dusts, cleans and polishes furniture, finish, metal or glass, and retains its chemical properties after being thoroughly washed. It holds particles of dust with which it comes in contact, shaking or beating will not dislodge them, and when the limit of its powers has been reached, can be thoroughly cleaned and sterilized with hot water and soap.

Watch it eat dust.

FUTCH BROTHERS TAKEN TO CHATHAM COUNTY

For Safe Keeping, Pending Arguing of Motion for New Trial.

Savannah, Ga., April 11.—(Special.) In the custody of Sheriff Kennedy, P. S. and Wallis Futch, the two brothers who were convicted in the Tattnall county superior court Friday and sentenced to life imprisonment by Judge Sheppard for the murder of John Deal at Claxton on August 21 last, were brought to the Chatham county jail today for safe-keeping.

With life sentences hanging over them, both men seem in the best of spirits. They accept the verdict of the jury philosophically, regarding it possibly as the only verdict the jury could have rendered. They have, however, filed a motion for a new trial, requesting that it be argued on May 13.

They talk freely of the case and the circumstances surrounding the shooting of Deal. Both admit they were engaged in an affray with Deal just before the shot was fired by Pete after the other had separated them when they were clinched. They both believe they were justified in committing the deed because of the circumstances surrounding the ill-feeling that had sprung up between Pete and Deal.

In speaking of the trial, Pete, who, it is charged, fired the shot that ended Deal's life, said: "I went on the stand and told the jury of the whole affair. I told them that I had killed him, but there was no other way out of it. I am sorry I had to do it, but there was no other way to end it. I had been sick when we met. Even if I had been well, Deal was a better man than I. When we went together I got cut up pretty bad and while we were fighting I called my brother to pull him off. When he got him off me I fired the shot."

Pet Monkey at Savannah Put to Death After it Had Made Attack Upon Owner.

Savannah, Ga., April 11.—(Special.) Following the biting of T. Hunter Henderson by a pet monkey, the animal was killed today by firemen who captured it after a chase up trees and over housetops. Although the monkey made a savage attack Henderson was not very badly bitten.

As a precaution it was decided to have the monkey executed so that it could be determined if it was suffering with hydrophobia. Firemen were pressed into service to catch the animal, which had escaped from its cage.

The chase was most exciting, the monkey eluding its pursuers for several hours. The head of the animal was sent to the city bacteriologist for examination.

The canning of sweet potatoes will be an important part of this industry.

PIERCE AND BARRETT MIX IT UP ON STREET

Prominent Young Augustans Come to Blows as Result of Accusations.

Augusta, Ga., April 11.—(Special.)—Following a speech made to the jury today in the United States court by Wallace Pierce, one of the attorneys for the plaintiff in the case of Banks v. Barrett & Doughty, Messrs. Frank Barrett, son of Mayor Thomas Barrett, Jr., and Wallace Pierce had a lively fight on Ninth street just across from the postoffice.

Banks was suing Barrett & Doughty for $3,000, which he claims that firm is due him because of selling his cotton when not instructed to do so.

In his address to the jury Pierce made remarks which were calculated to lead one to believe that Barrett had told falsehoods and also charging that Barrett & Doughty had taken advantage of Banks. The story of the difficulty soon reached Judge Speer and he had a warrant issued for Mr. Barrett.

A United States deputy marshal was sent to the office of Mr. Barrett and he was brought into court. The case will be called tomorrow morning. Mr. Barrett was placed under a $1,000 bond for appearance.

Judge Speer held that the case of Banks v. Barrett & Doughty was still before the court and that Mr. Barrett was in contempt of court. The jury which was deliberating just prior to the fight watched it from the jury room. A verdict, however, had already been reached and signed in favor of Barrett & Doughty, the plaintiff having failed to prove that he had a special contract with Barrett & Doughty in regard to cotton shipments.

Spring Medicine

Is made a yearly necessity by a yearly certainty—the return in the spring, in some degree or other, of such troubles as pimples, blotches and other eruptions, biliousness, headache, loss of appetite and that tired feeling.

The Perfect Spring Medicine cures all these troubles and builds up the whole system. It is Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills—the best possible medicinal combination.

Mrs. Feiste, 1804 Oakdale St., Philadelphia, Pa., says: "We have all been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills during the spring for impure blood, that tired feeling and loss of appetite, and have derived great benefit."

SHORT SESSION HELD BY FLORIDA SENATE

Tallahassee, Fla., April 11.—It had been expected that the Florida senate would pass upon the federal income tax proposition today, but that body adjourned after a short session during which it decided to take up the question next Friday.

A resolution previously adopted to appoint a committee to investigate drainage of the everglades was reconsidered and on another vote was lost. The time of the house was taken up in discussing committee clerks and public printing, nothing being done with either.

OKLAHOMA NEGROES LEAVING FOR CANADA

Guthrie, Okla., April 11.—The exodus of negroes from this state to Alberta, Canada, which started several months ago, is continuing, despite the fact that it is not encouraged by the Canadian government. Twenty negro farmers from near Fallis, Lincoln county, left here last night to join the colony in Alberta.

They expect to take claims and immediately build homes and start their crops, after which their families, numbering in all about 200 persons, will join them. It is said here that a colonization company is financing the negroes during the first season.

MANY SUBSCRIBE TO LOAN CO. STOCK

Indorsement of Plan to Fight Money Sharks.

About $20,000 in Subscriptions Has Come in Voluntarily. Many Subscriptions From Outside the State---Anonymous Letter From "Enemy."

Approximately $20,000 of the $50,000 desired to launch the loan bank for small borrowers, now the victims of loan sharks, has been subscribed voluntarily and the organization committee, of which W. Woods White is chairman, sees success ahead of its endeavor.

Members of the committee have not yet reported the result of their canvass among employers, not having the opportunity Tuesday to interview all personally. It is expected that when this report is made the support from this source will be tremendous.

Interest in the movement has spread outside of Atlanta. Inquiries are coming in from all parts of the state from people who want to take stock.

South Carolina Wants Stock.

From Sumter, S. C., F. M. Spann sent in his subscription for ten shares with the statement that he thought so highly of the proposition, both from the humane and business standpoint, that he would be one of ten men to take over all the stock.

It is not the purpose of the committee having the organization in charge, however, to let any few persons control the institution. It is the desire that everyone be given an opportunity to invest in a movement that is recognized as a long-neglected need.

The subscription is not limited to Atlanta alone, and interest from out-of-town sources is welcomed.

S. M. Stout, a newspaper man of Chipley, Ga., sent in his subscription for one share, and stated that his sister also wanted to subscribe.

M. G. Darby, of 115 Richardson street, seeing announcement of the plan in The Constitution, sent from Moultrie, Ga., while there on business, his subscription for twenty shares.

Rev. Dr. J. H. Patton, the well-known Presbyterian minister of Marietta, wrote inquiring if out-of-town persons would be allowed to take stock. "If you go out of Atlanta for subscriptions," said Dr. Patton, "I wish you would give me a chance."

Many Indorsements.

Strong indorsements of the proposed institution is added to those already published by Dr. Joel T. Daves, presiding elder of the Atlanta district of the Methodist church; Rev. H. R. Harrison, pastor Fraser Street Baptist church; Rev. S. R. Belk, pastor Park Street Methodist church; Rev. Walter L. Lingle, of the First Presbyterian church; Rabbi, A. S. Kleinfield and Rabbi J. M. Levine.

F. J. Paxon, president of the chamber of commerce, in an interview, states:

An Absolute Necessity.

"As an economic problem this loan company is an absolute necessity. As a social problem it will become a great influence. In lifting the burdens of great and usurious rates of interest from the shoulders of the small borrowers it will be a blessing. As a destroyer of petty graft in the smaller courts it will be a great power. As a recognition of our commercial responsibilities to those who must have, and will have, small loans it is a complete answer.

"We must not overlook, in our attention to larger affairs, the fact that the great mass of our citizens, with just as legitimate needs now and then for money as any of us, have very small opportunities for banking facilities.

"There are several strong features connected with the loan company we propose to organize, but one in particular appeals to me, and that is: The fact that it offers a place for small deposits on very equitable terms with good returns to each borrower; that while he is a borrower he may at the same time be saving if he is so inclined, and it will be the policy of the company, I am sure, to provoke the small savings.

"I regard the proposed loan company as a sound financial scheme and one offering splendid facilities to the borrower and very satisfactory returns to the lender.

Captain Raoul Talks.

Captain W. G. Raoul is heartily in line with the movement. He says:

"I am glad to subscribe to twenty shares of the stock of the loan company.

"It is a movement already too long neglected. It will undertake to meet a tremendous need in our city at this time of small borrowers.

"The plan is sound and I believe the business men of Atlanta will make it a financial success, while at the same time it meets the human needs we see upon every side of us.

"I hope the stock will be promptly subscribed for by every business man in Atlanta."

From "An Enemy for Life."

Mr. White requests The Constitution to print the following anonymous letter which bore the postmark of Gainesville, Ga.:

W. W. White—Sir: Any man that would do such a low down thing as you are doing is not worth being shot.

You are publishing about what all the pastors say of this. I wish that you would publish this.

I don't believe half that the papers said. How long did it take you and that band that you have in MY home city to think up the LIARS that you put in the papers. Or in other words, how much did you pay the pastors to say the things that you had put in the papers?

Well, I wish that you would put this in the papers for MY sake, if not for anybody's sake.

I remain to look in all the papers to see if you do what I ask of you.

CORNER THE FLORIDA LAND SITUATION!

Ten Dollars Properly Invested Should Double Itself Every Month in the Year

To every man and woman in Atlanta and vicinity who can spare 34 cents a day from his or her surplus earnings:

One hundred thousand people, a great majority of them salaried people, laboring people, wage earners, are making money today by their investments in well bought Florida Real Estate.

These people are scattered from Maine to California; from the Lakes to the Gulf; from Europe around the globe to Asia.

Thousands and thousands of these investors have never seen Florida, and perhaps never will—basing their investments in Florida upon the phenomenal growth of the state—the unprecedented movement of people there from every section of the world—and upon the phenomenal growth of Florida's two great cities, Jacksonville, the metropolis of the northern end, and Tampa, the metropolis of the southern end.

Jacksonville real estate has made fortunes for numbers of people, big profits for thousands, and the greatest opportunities are those of today—this very hour and minute.

Tampa real estate has made profits varying in size from a few hundred dollars to many thousands for a great multitude of people who have been wise enough to invest, and the day of greatest opportunity is today. Tampa is the sixth fastest growing city in the United States as shown by the federal census of 1910—think of it; and let your mind grasp the situation when the Panama Canal is opened, and Tampa—as she must and will—becomes the port for the vast inland business that must pass from her rails to her ships.

And then there is "Lucky Sanford"—Sanford, the little city on the shores of Lake Monroe, that is famous throughout the civilized world as the nucleus and trading center for the greatest celery and lettuce gardens in America.

Indeed, all of Florida is growing. Land values are jumping as if by magic. The suburbs of the two great cities are rapidly becoming the centers; the activity in trading, and the rapidly enhancing values are making men rich over night.

This statement is more than conservative. Investigate for yourself, and see if it is not literally true.

No people, in all this great country of profit-making, can know and appreciate more keenly the wisdom of real estate investing than the people of Atlanta. Fortunes have been made and are being made in Atlanta city and suburban real estate, and in talking to an Atlanta audience on the wisdom of placing surplus savings in real estate, the basis of all wealth, the safest and sanest of all securities, we know that we are talking to people who know.

And now to the point—

The Jacksonville Development Company, of Jacksonville, Florida, one of the largest and most successful real estate owning and operating companies in the south, has opened an Atlanta office, through one of its subsidiary companies, THE FLORIDA TOWNSITE COMPANY, in the Forsyth Building, Room 823.

This company has ten thousand customers on its books. It has more than a million dollars in assets to guarantee every statement or contract it makes; it has made money for its patrons—it has pursued a policy of profit-sharing with its customers since the day of its inauguration six years ago. It was the originator of the "NO INTEREST, NO TAXES" terms, and based upon monthly payments so easy that the customer could buy without feeling the sacrifice, and thus become enabled to hold for the certain profit that must follow every good real estate investment.

The Florida Townsite Company (a company owned absolutely by the Jacksonville Development Company), will offer, beginning today, to the people of Atlanta and vicinity the most remarkable real estate opportunity, in our judgment, ever placed before the investing public. Note well:—

Two of Jacksonville's choicest investment opportunities.

Three of Tampa's choicest investment opportunities.

The six properties, one of them a villa site large enough for eight city building lots; another, a home-site large enough for three building lots—the others, the very choicest of close-in city suburban properties, approached by paved street, street car transportation, modern conveniences, etc.

All six of these exceptional Florida investments, in the territory of greatest development and jumping values, will be sold as a unit—as one property—for only $750, which figure gives the purchaser a $250 rebate over prevailing list prices—and they will be sold to the customers of the Atlanta office—on an introductory basis—for only $10 cash and $10 a month, without interest or taxes. Understand, that means only ten dollars a month for the unit—all the properties.

You can sell all or any one of the properties any time you may desire; you can get a 10 per cent cash discount any time you desire to take deed; you can, if you desire, personally inspect the properties at any time within three months, and demand and receive back every dollar you have invested, if for any reason you become dissatisfied, or find any statement made in our advertising or literature incorrect; you can lapse in your monthly payments for a period of three months if you desire, in the event of sickness or adversity, without forfeiting a penny of your equity in the properties; in the event of the purchaser's death before the property has been paid for the company will act as fiscal agent without compensation for the legal beneficiary in disposing of the equity acquired in the properties to the best advantage, or will apply the full amount paid in on the combination to any particular property of equal market value, and issue full warrantee deed to the beneficiary.

This policy of the company—a policy that has made it famous—is known as the "Better than life insurance" clause.

Remember, it only takes $10 to start on this road to profit making in Florida real estate—and just as certain as day follows night, in our judgment, every ten dollars invested in this opening opportunity will double itself every month in the year—mark the prediction! We give bond for title covering each property. Our titles are perfect. We invite the closest investigation of our financial responsibility.

Call at our office, ROOM 823, FORSYTH BUILDING, at once. Do not delay. Calling for the purpose of looking further into the merits of this opportunity does not obligate you in the slightest degree. If you cannot call in person, use the attached coupon, and we shall be glad to furnish you further information.

P. S.—Mr. James A. Hollomon, president of the Tampa Bay Land Co., the largest colonization corporation in the south; treasurer and manager of the Jacksonville Development Co., a corporation with a half million dollars' capital; and vice president of the Florida Townsite Co., owners of the properties covered by the Florida Investment Unit, is in the city for a few days with apartments at the Piedmont Hotel. Mr. Hollomon, who, by the way, is an old Atlanta man, has authorized the manager of the Atlanta office to select twenty-five of the very choicest individual properties in each of the various subdivisions included in this combination offer, for the first twenty-five customers of this office.

Remember, too, that you select your own property in each of the subdivisions unless you desire that we shall do so. In that event we will give the selections our personal attention.

SLAYER OF HILTON IN SAVANNAH JAIL

Made Trip From Sylvani in Custody of Screven County Sheriff.

Savannah, Ga., April 11.—(Special.) C. E. Lee, who shot and killed L. H. Hilton yesterday afternoon at Sylvania, was brought to this city tonight in custody of Sheriff Joiner, of Screven county, and lodged in the Chatham county jail for safe-keeping. E. K. Overstreet, Lee's attorney, accompanies him.

Lee would make no statement relative to the shooting, nor would his attorney talk about the case.

Earlier in the day it was rumored in Sylvania and Savannah that Sheriff Joiner and his charge had gone to Statesboro, where Lee would be confined in the county jail.

This, it developed, was merely a ruse to prevent the residents of Sylvania getting wind of the true purpose of the officers, as considerable feeling is being manifested against the man who shot down one of Sylvania's most prominent citizens. Accordingly, striking the Central of Georgia railway, the prisoner was conveyed to Savannah, where he will be confined until his trial. Lee received two wounds in the hand and leg, from Hilton's shotgun.

Charles D. Norton Elected.

New York, April 11.—Charles D. Norton, former secretary to President Taft, was elected today vice president of the First National Bank.

HIS STORY OF VICE MADE WOMEN FLEE

Appalling Conditions Are Said to Exist in Pittsburg.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 11.—A. Lee Weil, president of the Pittsburg Voters' League, appeared before the senate committee today and reiterated the charges he had made two weeks ago against the administration of Pittsburg, when he urged that the city be "Lexowed."

Mr. Weil charged corruption in the management of the city and told a story of vice in that municipality that drove women auditors from the room.

Mayor Magee, of Pittsburg, immediately demanded an investigation and a resolution was presented in the senate calling for an inquiry, today's hearing being for the purpose of determining whether there is sufficient material available to warrant the senate in consenting to an investigation of the charges. In concluding his statement today Mr. Weil said:

"I do not abate one jot title from the charges made two weeks ago. I charged that the city had been opened wide to the prostitute, the gambler, the speak-easy and criminal classes generally. There is not a well-informed man in the city who does not know this to be true."

Cigarmakers Strike.

Cincinnati, April 11.—Five hundred cigarmakers employed by the Havana-American Company here went on strike this afternoon. The walkout was due to the ompany refusing to increase wages.

TREES IN HISTORIC BONAVENTURE ARE CLIMBED BY NEW YORK WOMEN

Savannah, Ga., April 11.—(Special.) Climbing trees in historic Bonaventure for Spanish moss, several of a party of sixty-five New York and Brooklyn public school teachers demonstrated today that they are athletes as well as mental instructors.

The school teachers reached Savannah today on the City of Savannah, of the Ocean Steamship Company line, for their Easter excursion. The yankee school marms make the sea trip to this city every year and enjoy every minute of their stay. They will remain here two days, returning to New York on the same vessel.

It is a coincidence that the school teachers have made the trip for several years with the same steamship in command of Captain Beard.

14 SHOTS AT SAVANNAH COST GOVERNMENT $2,000

Savannah, Ga., April 11.—(Special.)—It cost the United States government $2,000 today for the firing of fourteen shots at Fort Screven and the same amount will be spent in the same manner.

The 121st and the 116th companies manned battery Habersham and under Captain Winn did some very satisfactory shooting.

A full service projectile for a 12-inch mortar, which was used, weighs 1,084 pounds and requires a charge of nearly 38 pounds of powder.

PUZZLE EXPERT LLOYD SUMMONED BY DEATH

In His Unique Calling He Built Up Fortune of Over $1,000,000.

New York, April 11—Sam Lloyd, the well-known puzzle expert, died today at his home in Brooklyn from a stroke of apoplexy. He was 70 years of age. For many years Mr. Lloyd has been known throughout the country for his popular problems for the amusement of newspapers and magazine readers. In this unique calling he had built up an estimated fortune of more than $1,000,000.

TRIBBLE INTRODUCES PARCELS POST BILL

He Thinks Measure Will Satisfy Both Farmers and Rural Merchants.

Washington, April 11.—(Special.)—Representative Tribble, of the eighth district, introduced a parcels post bill today which he thinks will satisfy both the farmers and rural merchants of the country. It provides for a general parcels post to include all agricultural, horticultural, dairy and poultry products. A restricted parcels post limited to routes radiating from one office is provided for other products.

With so many schedules, the tariff ought to get there on time.

This Spring isn't gentle enough to stand for a stroking of her ice-fringed curls.

No town has offered the great Colonel $2,000,000 to transfer his citizenship.

Pity that the long-predicted "safety" American mine is still safely out of sight.

Perhaps that Dove of Peace is hovering in sight of congress, waiting for the recall.

The snake-story is in cold storage, and the hook worm has departed from the river banks.

Wall Street feels better, since the troops are at hand to protect its interests in Mexico.

And the busy senate may have to devote so much valuable time to investigating Lorimer again.

It was announced that congress had arrived "with the goods." If so, now is the time to "show, show, show!"

Having given Mr. Hearst the credit of it, Carter Harrison will now proceed to get a little on his own account.

Cannon has invited Champ Clark to take the floor; but Champ isn't going to let the old man get that "swing" at him.

A rainy funeral for the fruit crop, but it's a consolation to know that the shivering weather prophets are pallbearers.

It is hoped there will be no necessity for all-night sessions that leave congress all "broken-up" for the work of the day.

"Don't want any office," says the Colonel. Is it possible he has despaired of ever carrying his own ward at Oyster Bay?

The tariff isn't lonesome as it "hangs in the balance," for the people are hanging to it, with a strong downward pull.

Those earthquake shocks in Arkansas had nothing in common with Jeff Davis, who doesn't shock the country any more.

Mr. Roosevelt isn't complimentary. He really thinks that the divorce lawyers don't know their business well enough to run Reno.

Champ Clark is solid for the platform pledges, but he looks the other way when he sees a Missouri mule on Pennsylvania avenue.

Colonel Roosevelt says he has "had everything on the earth;" but we doubt if he will spend the balance of his time sighing for heaven.

Nothing of the has-been about Senator Beveridge. Too many magazines in search of eminent contributors, and platforms anxious for orators.

It is said that there is an author on every jury empaneled in the state of Indiana. Impossible to avoid it, where every other man is in the literary business.

An exchange says Champ Clark is trying to pacify the suffragettes. So, after all, there must be some truth in the rumored charge of the bright brigade on congress.

Colonel Roosevelt speaks of this as his "last long trip." Either it hasn't "panned out," or he imagines he can do just as well by thinking that he is running the country from Oyster Bay.

THE GRAND OPERA SEASON.

While the announcement that Caruso has been forced to abandon his Atlanta engagement will be received with regret, the extraordinary strength of the program announced for the season of the Metropolitan Opera Company will meet with such universal approval as to guarantee the success of the event on just as broad a scale as though Caruso had come.

Caruso has not appeared in New York in two months, and his physicians advise him that he cannot possibly sing under a year, and that the condition of his vocal chords are such that he may never be able to appear in public again.

The world-famous tenor, Ricardo Martin, has been substituted for him in "La Gioconda," and the splendid ovation received by Martin last year in Atlanta assures his cordial welcome when he comes in place of Caruso. Martin will also sing the leading tenor role in "Trovatore."

The program will stand, as originally announced, except that since Caruso has no understudy in "The Girl of the Golden West," "Othello," with Slezak, will be presented in its stead.

The revision of the program of the four performances will open the engagement Thursday evening, April 27, with "La Giaconda," to be followed Friday evening with "Koenigskinder." "Trovatore" will be presented at matinee Saturday, and "Othello" that evening.

The full and final details of the engagement, with all the stars participating in each of the performances, are presented elsewhere, and will be read with unusual interest this morning.

The sale of the single seats begins this morning, and there seems to be no doubt that every seat in the great Auditorium will be sold for each of the four performances.

ROBBING THE SOUTHERN FARMER.

The New Orleans Cotton Exchange, through President W. B. Thompson, has joined the farmers of the south in a ringing protest to congress against the additional pocket-picking of the cotton producer now contemplated by the bagging and tie trusts.

The Constitution recently drew attention to the shrewd maneuver of the bagging trust, whereby it had secured an interpretation of the import duty on bagging materials greatly increasing the tribute already extorted from the farmer.

President Thompson, in his letter to every congressman, directs attention to the pending outrage, and thus outlines the present and projected status of what is nothing less than a licensed steal on the part of these two monopolies:

Thus, under the Payne-Aldrich law, as heretofore interpreted, the cotton producer has borne the burden of a $950,000 yearly tax on bagging and ties, and if the chemical interpretation holds, he will hereafter be mulcted in the yearly sum of $2,900,000 for his baling materials, all of which go into the treasuries of the bagging and tie trusts.

From the reasons stated, it will incontestibly appear that not only the proposed outrage, but the present tax on bagging and ties is inequitable and wrong; and because the western farmer has now and has had for more than fifteen years, his binder twine on the free list, the tax upon the southern farmer stands condemned of the additional vice of discrimination.

The original degree of protection accorded the bagging and tie trusts was difficult of palliation, since the toll came in each instance from the profits of bona fide farmers.

The injustice of the burden now sought to be increased is seen to be particularly indefensible, when it is recalled that the western farmers enjoy the admission, duty-free, of binder twine, which is the equivalent of cotton ties in the handling of wheat.

Larceny under shadow of law in the first instance is thus made peculiarly flagrant by sectional discrimination.

In this case, the extra load is not carried by the consumer or, as in some exceptional instances, by the middleman.

The toll is taken directly out of the profits of every bale of cotton produced in the southern states—and already the cotton farmer is called upon to endure an unequal share of the excessive cost of living under the high protection of the Payne-Aldrich law.

The duty in the premises of the democratic house is plain.

The ax should be laid to the root of this shameful iniquity.

It will not be sufficient to re-enact the law so that the original smaller impost is placed upon bagging and ties.

Nothing short of absolute duty-free admission of both of these staples will readjust the equities and wipe out the discrimination which can only be justified by the shallowest sort of political expediency.

Relief may reasonably be expected from the democrats in the house.

But fire should be concentrated on the republican insurgents in the senate, who will hold the key to the situation as regards tariff revision in the upper body.

If there is sincerity in their protestations of devotion to the common welfare, they will join hands with the senate democrats in rectifying a wrong that exhibits the alliance between corporate greed and political truckling in its most unlovely aspects.

BUILDING SENTIMENT AGAINST GUN-TOTER.

Judge C. H. Brand, of the Georgia western judicial district, is to be commended for attacking the problem of the pistol-toter at its stronghold—the apathy of public sentiment.

Constitution dispatches told of a recent scene at the Clarke superior court in Athens, when Judge Brand obtained the pledge of nearly 300 negroes to co-operate in stamping out this evil that is the parent of murder.

As he has already done in several places, he asked those in favor of sending the white or black pistol-toter to jail without the alternative of a fine to rise to their feet.

In Athens, in the neighborhood of 300 negroes, including several women, gave their approval to this method of handling lawbreakers.

It may, of course, be objected that many negroes, unschooled in self-control of respect for a pledge, will disregard their given word when provocation arises.

To an extent, such a condition would hold.

But it is progress to have impressed upon so large a percentage of negroes in one community the heinousness of pistol-toting, and the probability of swift and unswerving punishment for infractions of the law.

At the last analysis, the solution must rest largely with absolute enforcement of the penalties provided, in all their rigor.

The negro or white man not qualified to carry a deadly weapon, stands convicted when a pistol is found on his person. No other evidence is, or should be, necessary.

And if, to such invaders of the public safety, heavy chain-gang sentences are meted out without compunction or hesitation, the deterrent effect would be invaluable.

It only requires a concentrated and sentiment-proof public opinion to stamp out a menace that feeds on indifference or law slackly administered.

WORTHY OF LIBERAL PATRONAGE.

One of the most original and practical of the charities appealing to the people of Atlanta is the Atlanta Woman's Exchange. An outline of its work is published in another column, as described by Mrs. Thomas B. Felder, the president of the exchange.

Fundamentally, the object of the exchange is to furnish a haven for noon-day rest and refreshment to the thousands of working girls of Atlanta; and to supply, without charge, a night school, at which those who, through the exigencies of bread-winning, have been compelled to forego educational opportunities, may study the elementary branches.

On April 18 a yellow domino ball is to be held at the Auditorium-Amory, to meet the deficit inevitable with philanthropic enterprises of this nature.

For the pleasure the occasion itself offers, and for the splendid merit of the exchange, the people of Atlanta should liberally patronize the event.

"JUST FROM GEORGIA"

Wasn't Talented That Way.

"Knew how to save the nation," was the word they heard him say:
When it came to hoein' cotton, "wasn't talented that way."

'Twas one thing for to save a state,
Another—runnin' furrows straight.

He'd "show 'em," ef he jest could run the government one day!
When it came to raisin' harvests—"wasn't talented that way."

Could lift a state clost to the sky,
But couldn't pile a harvest high.

"Look wise," said Brother Williams, "w'en folks talk o' weather, but don't make no predictions. Dat's de bes' way in de worl' ter git a reputation, likewise ter keep out o' trouble. An' it's de same way wid politics: W'en dey want you ter tell how it's gwine, des put on de wise look an' smoke yo' pipe, quiet-like, whilst de yuther fellers breaks de silence all ter pieces; den, no matter which way it goes, you is on de safe side, an' you kin speak up, an' say: 'I knowed des how it wus gwine all de time, but I didn't say nuthin'."

Song o' summer days were singin',—
Fervid skies the fire brands flingin',
While there breaks an icy storm,
An' Bre'r Rabbit can't keep warm.
Listening to the chimney's roar,
Dream of summer days once more.

How we'll bless the world ablaze!
When the clouds are sailing higher,
And the fields are all a-fire!
In this springtime blizzard-storm,
Even Bre'r Rabbit can't keep warm.

The Fatal "Separator."

This story, of a recent election incident in North Carolina:

"A large crowd had gathered at the courthouse to see the official vote counted. To facilitate the work, an adding machine was used. Among the attendants there was a large number of people from the rural districts who had never seen one of these complicated machines. They viewed it with open distrust. And when the votes were finally counted, one of the defeated candidates remarked to a friend as he turned away: 'I know I was elected to that office, but that blame separator cheated me out of it!'"

The Perfectly-Trained Husband.

"Ah," said the Billville widow, "I shall never see the like of him again! He was as nigh perfect as men ever get to be: He never deceived me—for he knew it was no use tryin'; he never objected to a new spring dress—after I had ordered it; and never spoke of running for office—after I had joined the suffragettes; and if he ever burned the biscuits when I had company, he never set 'em on the table. It would require years for me to train another husband up to that man's state of perfection!"

THE Y. M. C. A. FUND

Glorious, Optimistic, Progressive.

(From the Raleigh, N. C., Observer.)

Atlanta—glorious, optimistic, progressive Atlanta—has raised $600,000 within the past few weeks for a Y. M. C. A. worthy of the most progressive city in the south. Raleigh ought to catch the Atlanta spirit and remove the stigma of being the only state capital in America without a Y. M. C. A.

Still Flourishing.

(From the Chattanooga, Tenn., Times.)

The Atlanta "spirit" is still flourishing. The Gate City has raised a $600,000 Y. M. C. A. building fund.

Such a Stunt.

(From the Wilmington, N. C. Dispatch.)

Talking about raising money, Atlanta performed such a stunt during the past few weeks to the tune of $600,000 for a Young Men's Christian Association. Of course, Atlanta is a city of about one hundred and sixty thousand people, but proportion that amount down to the city you live in, and then ask could, or would your city do it?

"Exclusively Atlanta."

(From the Athens Banner.)

Even the Y. M. C. A. movement in Atlanta couldn't escape the fate of being made "exclusively Atlanta." The cartoons showed the initials of this organization as the "Y. M. C. A-tlanta" organization. Pity it is that other cities cannot learn from Atlanta the value of advertising.

Give Thanks.

(From the Dalton Citizen.)

Atlanta has raised that $600,000 Y. M. C. A. fund. Thank the Lord! Something else will now be in the Atlanta newspapers.

Put To Test.

(From the Lexington Echo.)

Well, Atlanta did raise that $600,000 for the Y. M. C. A., but for once that Atlanta spirit was put to the real test. It will doubtless set smaller tasks for itself in future.

Not a Large Sum.

(From the Griffin Herald.)

As usual Atlanta got what she went after. Six hundred thousand dollars is a large sum of money to raise, but not for the Empire City.

An Inspiring Spectacle.

(From the Brunswick News.)

The spectacle of Atlanta raising six hundred thousand dollars for a Y. M. C. A. building is the most inspiring thing that has happened in Georgia in a decade.

No One Doubted.

(From the Moultrie Journal.)

Atlanta citizens succeeded in raising that $600,000 for Y. M. C. A. buildings. No one seriously doubted for a moment the Capital City's ability to raise this amount of dough, for there's a whole lot of public spirit—Atlanta Spirit—up there.

Talks About Atlanta

The Latest War.

(From the Valdosta Times.)

Atlanta's latest war is over the "family pork barrel," which means that the people there are getting tired of public officials who fill all the offices of the city with nephews, cousins and uncles.

What They Are For.

(From The Richmond, Va., Leader.)

"The Atlanta council defeated an ordinance aimed against nepotism in the public service." Of course. What are councils most generally elected for.

Great City Of Atlanta.

(From the Dothan, Ala., Eagle.)

It has recently developed that the great city of Atlanta is officered by people who are kin to each other. Great graft this, to get a hold on a public office, and then hire your kinsfolk to take whatever jobs there are to be handed out.

And to make matters worse, the council of Atlanta fails and even refuses to pass an ordinance preventing them or future councils, from employing kinsfolk to hold those offices.

ATTEND YELLOW MASK BALL AND AID WOMAN'S EXCHANGE

In behalf of the Atlanta Woman's Exchange one of the most appealing philanthropies in Atlanta, Mrs. Thomas B. Felder, its president, has issued an appeal to the people of Atlanta.

In the prosecution of its free branches for the benefit of the working girls of Atlanta the exchange has accumulated a deficit.

It is planned to meet the deficit with the proceeds from a yellow domino ball, to be given on the evening of the 18th instant, at the Auditorium-Armory.

Mrs. Felder describes the splendid work of the exchange and appeals for patronage of the ball in the following straightforward public statement:

A Laudable Work.

"To the People of Atlanta: About a year ago I was requested to accept the presidency of the Atlanta Woman's Exchange.

"I knew little or nothing then of its objects and purposes. An investigation convinced me that it was one of Atlanta's worthiest and most laudable, but at the same time, most neglected, charities—the chief aim of the institution being the moral and mental uplift of the working women and girls of the city. The details of its plans and purposes are beyond the scope of this card, but are given almost daily in the press of the city.

"In the nature of things, the institution is not self-supporting and must look periodically to the aid of philanthropy for its existence. I have given freely of my time and money for its support. I am so impressed with the great importance of its work that I would cheerfully put up all the money necessary to sustain it, but feel that I am not financially able to do so, and must call upon the good people of the city to assist the little band of brave Christian women who have stood and are standing by me in this glorious work. Our interest in the work is just the same as that of every other citizen in Atlanta—no more, no less. If you indorse the work and desire it continued, you must come to our assistance now.

"We are giving a charity ball on the evening of the 18th of April, the proceeds of which are to be used for the benefit of this charity. The tickets are $1.50 each. You can mail your checks for this, or any other sum, to H. W. Davis, chairman of the finance committee, care the Lowry National bank, whether you dance or approve dancing or not, and it will save this noble charity to the city of Atlanta.

"By responding to this appeal you will save my associates and myself the added labor of canvassing the city in an effort to sell the tickets and the necessary embarrassment and humiliation incident thereto.

"MRS. THOS. B. FELDER.

WANTS PEACE CELEBRATION WITH BIBLE TERCENTENARY

Editor Constitution: Your proposal in the issue of the Constitution of April 9 for a public meeting of Atlanta's citizens in indorsement of the world peace movement claims not only the respectful attention but challenges as well the active and hearty co-operation of every one who shares the foremost thought in the mind of the civilization of today.

The occasion is one that calls for the sympathetic response of every one who is concerned for the highest welfare of mankind; the place has been proposed; why shall not the time be made as nearly simultaneous as possible with like celebrations to be held throughout the country, and advantage be taken of the widespread interest being aroused in the prospect of a peace pact for the world to train and mold public opinion?

The great mass meeting of churchmen and statesmen in Albert Hall in London last month in celebration of the tercentenary of the King James version of the English Bible, gave tremendous impetus to the movement inaugurated in behalf of a peace treaty between the United States and England in the interchange between President Taft and Sir Edward Grey.

Indeed, in the celebration, at which Premier Asquith and Ambassador Whitelaw Reid were the principal speakers, the honors were evenly divided between the commemoration of the English Bible and the promotion of the plans for a permanent arbitration between the two countries.

Through the American Bible Society the call has been issued for the celebration of this tercentenary in America on Sunday, April 23. This observance in the churches is going to be followed in New York City with a notable meeting in Carnegie Hall on Tuesday evening, April 25. Why should not Atlanta avail herself of this observance that is international in its scope to show her choice of the Prince of Peace over the Man of War?

How oft is simplicity the dower of kings,
And childlike faith regnant in noble hearts!
'Twas so with him who now from us departs
To climb higher sky-spaces, where his strong wings,
No longer caged to narrow wanderings,
May seek tall glories which we know not of,
Aye, sound the starry depths of truth and love.
Even to the ultimate One that Progress sings.
Such is the guerdon of unselfishness,
Of a soul consecrate to humanity;
But O for the kind eyes that now are free,
And O for the kind voice to soothe and bless
That trembles now with holy happiness,

WOMEN ARE ORGANIZING FOR CIVIC BETTERMENT

Edited by Isma Dooly.

"Love lives in cottages as well as in courts."

Editor Women's Department: Can you tell me whether there is a movement among the girls anything like the boy scouts' movement among the boys?

I have friends among my little girl playmates who are much interested in the Boy Scouts and the Boys' Club but never hear anything about good things for girls. I want my girls to be womanly women and believe that some kind of society could be formed among girls to do for them what the Boy Scouts are trying to do for the boys. Sincerely yours,

A MOTHER OF GIRLS.

Answers to the above question would be appreciated by the editor.

Second Ward Ladies Meet.

The ladies of the second ward met and organized yesterday at the home of Mrs. Courtland Winn for the purpose of doing their part toward the active movement for civic betterment which is interesting the women of every ward in the city. The movement has grown through the effort of Mrs. Woods White, president of the city federation, who is assisting in the organization of civic clubs in every ward.

The meeting was most interesting and enthusiastic. Mrs. Winn was unanimously elected as president and was assured the co-operation of women representing every section of the ward. Officers of the new club were elected and Mrs. Winn will announce later her committees and the plan of work for the ward.

The inclemency of the weather did not seem to limit the attendance, though each lady present brought messages from neighbors who could not come but who desired to become members and assist in whatever plans Mrs. Winn and her board of officers decided upon.

The plan of Mrs. F. J. Spratling put in operation in the seventh ward was put before the ladies for consideration, this plan being to divide the work into sections with sub-chairmen. It was decided to work out a plan to be presented at a meeting to be held next Tuesday with Mrs. Winn at a time to be announced later.

The meeting, though organized, called for informal expression Tuesday, and the ladies were earnest in their desire to reach all in their efforts for civic betterment. One, two or three in a neighborhood will not be sufficient, but some means must be worked out by which all must be reached and drawn into the movement.

Certain improvements that might be made in the ward were discussed, and the matter of introducing a spirit of civic life into the schools.

The necessity of reaching the colored women in their homes was discussed, the health of the community depending largely on the cleanliness of their homes as well as the homes in which they are employed during the day.

Mrs. White urged upon the ladies to visit the exhibition of applied arts being held under the auspices of the Atlanta Art Association, as a step toward training the future citizen in the knowledge of civic beauty.

Officers Elected.

Among the ladies joining the club were Mrs. J. E. Sommerfield, Mrs. M. V. Shearer, Mrs. T. R. Sawtell, Mrs. Frank Wilby, Mrs. J. E. McClelland, Mrs. E. F. Marshall, Mrs. L. J. Troustine, Miss Emily Jekyl, Mrs. Jacob Selig, Mrs. W. S. Calhoun, Mrs. Walter Parker, Mrs. M. L. Brittain, Mrs. J. H. Bradfield, Mrs. R. A. Sonn, Mrs. W. P. Smith, Mrs. R. B. Blackburn, Mrs. Isaac Schoen, Mrs. David Marx, Mrs. Arthur Heyman, Mrs. B. Z. Phillips, Mrs. Charles Herman, Mrs. Oscar Elsas, Mrs. Cooper Myers, Mrs. Samuel Pinkusson, Mrs. L. H. Moss, Mrs. S. B. Turman.

Children in Art Exhibit.

The work of Atlanta's public school children of the grammar schools is being exhibited at the hall of the Atlanta Art Association in the Phillips & Crew building on Pryor street. The exhibit not only serves to show the talent of the children, but shows how in not carrying the teaching of drawing through the high school Atlanta's school system is behind that of many cities not having half the number of inhabitants Atlanta claims.

No citizen of Atlanta who desires to know why drawing is necessary as a branch of training in the public school, no parent who believes that drawing taxes the child, no woman who is interested in the house beautiful, and no artist who appreciates the value of the applied arts should fail to visit the exhibition.

Phillips & Crew have tendered the Art Association this hall for a permanent exhibit, and it is the hope of the association to follow the present exhibit with another stressing some branch of art.

Mrs. Samuel M. Inman, president of the Atlanta Art Association, in discussing the present exhibit, stated that the Art Association is carrying out a planned campaign in the matter showing the values of art in the applied sense.

"This exhibit serves to illustrate some of the many valuable points made in the recent lecture of that brilliant and cultured speaker, Mr. Henry Turner Bailey, who impressed his hearers with the place and power of drawing in the constructive work upon which the propriety of our section so largely depends," said Mrs. Inman.

"The exhibit is small but nevertheless traces drawing from the most elementary strokes in the primary classes through the higher ones into the high school curriculum, and from there into the realm of interior decoration and architecture. There are specimens of work from Toledo, Ohio, Indianapolis, Anderson, Ind., Racine, Wis., Houston, Texas, Fort Worth, Texas, Sullivan, Bluffton and Jefferson, Ind., Jackson, Miss., Bloomington, Ill., Austin, Texas, Greenville, Mich., Takoma, Ind., Galveston, Texas, Franklin, Ind., all of these specimens being from the grammar and high schools, drawing taught all through the educational systems of these schools.

"The exhibit from Pratt Institute is one to interest teacher, pupil and parent, while the varied exhibit from the Philadelphia School of Applied Arts is an inspiration in instruction and beauty.

"We see in this the necessity of training in art in the south where there is the great textile industry peculiarly ours, while the many specimens of interior decoration demonstrates the necessity of a training which will lead to the home beautiful—and finally the city beautiful.

Plans of the Association.

"The plan of the association is to use the membership dues for the present, to promote exhibits like these free to all, and to bring men like Henry Turner Bailey to talk to all," explained Mrs. Inman.

"We have no endowment; we have no funds, except what we get from membership dues, and I feel that for the time being the association can do no better work than to emphasize the present movement to give every child in the public schools of Atlanta a chance to do his part toward the constructive work of his section by giving him the training to do it, and by bringing our people to know the relation of art to our industrial progress.

"The old idea that art is a something to be enjoyed by the few must be relegated to the past, for one of the world's most practical movements now is to bring art and its branches into every phase of everyday life."

Mrs. A. L. Colcord Calls Meeting.

Mrs. A. L. Colcord calls a meeting of her section of the Seventh Ward Civic Club for Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock. REASONED IT OUT

And Found a Change in Food Put Him Right.

A man does not count as wasted the time he spends in thinking over his business, but he seems loth to give the same sort of careful attention to himself and to his health. And yet his business would be worth little without good health to care for it. A business man tells how he did himself good by carefully thinking over his physical condition, investigating to find out what was needed, and then changing to the right food.

"For some years I had been bothered a great deal after meals. My food seemed to lay like lead in my stomach, producing heaviness and dullness and sometimes positive pain. Of course this rendered me more or less unfit for business, and I made up my mind that something would have to be done.

"Reflection led me to the conclusion that over-eating, filling the stomach with indigestible food, was responsible for many of the ills that human flesh endures, and that I was punishing myself in that way—that was what was making me so dull, heavy and uncomfortable, and unfit for business after meals. I concluded to try Grape Nuts food to see what it could do for me.

"I have been using it for some months now, and am glad to say that I do not suffer any longer after meals; my food seems to assimilate easily and perfectly, and to do the work for which it was intended.

I have regained my normal weight, and find that business is a pleasure once more—can take more interest in it, and my mind is clearer and more alert."

HERE'S YOUR CHANCE

To Learn the Truth About

KENEFICK, Okla.

The Fastest Growing Little City in the Southwest Today

Mr. George H. Lowerre, Jr., owner and builder of Kenefick, Okla., has directed me to come to Atlanta with my exhibit of pictures, in order that you may secure definite and authentic information concerning the wonderful growth this little city has made in the past fourteen months. No doubt you have read with interest the full-page and half-page advertisements about Kenefick which have appeared in The Constitution from time to time during the past year. To you who have purchased property in Kenefick, as well as to you who are desirous of making a safe and profitable investment for a very small amount of money, I am prepared to submit positive proof of the remarkable strides made by Kenefick in the brief span of its existence.

LISTEN: On February 14th, 1910, Kenefick was a bare spot on the beautiful twelve-mile prairie. Today, it has a population of approximately eight hundred people. More than $120,000.00 has been spent in permanent improvements, and the M., O. & G. Ry. is running trains through the town.

Can You Beat It?

I have with me more than one hundred actual photographs, taken on the town-site, showing the different brick business blocks, residences, public buildings and industrial plants. I also have letters from the Kenefick Commercial club, bankers, and many of the business men giving sworn statements as to business conditions, bank deposits, crop statistics, population, etc.

I know the town like a book, and own property there myself. Come and talk with me personally, and you will learn more real facts about Kenefick in thirty minutes than you would by reading thirty pages of printed statements and advertising matter.

Kenefick has just been incorporated as a city, and has voted $25,000.00 worth of bonds for a high school. Plans are also under way for the construction of a $15,000.00 water system, the supply to be derived from the Blue River, which flows within one and one-half miles of the town.

Lots are now selling from $25 to $400 each. Remarkably low prices—when one considers that Kenefick is not a "paper plat," but is a bona fide city now.

MURDERED BABE FOUND BURIED IN EMBANKMENT

Child Strangled With Cord Discovered on Railroad Bank in West End.

Wrapped in a piece of cloth and partially buried in the side of the railroad embankment, the body of a newly-born white babe, which had been strangled to death with a cord, was found yesterday shortly after noon on the Louisville and Nashville right-of-way a short distance above Gordon street.

It is supposed that the infant was buried during the night, as the tracks of the persons who brought it to the railroad passed over a barbed-wire fence, when in the daylight one would have walked a few feet and avoided it. The hole in the bank was evidently made with the hands of the person burying the child.

Coroner Donehoo is working on the case.

MISS HOLDERBY QUITS POSITION AT LIBRARY

Beautiful Pearl Pin Given Her by the Members of the Staff.

The feature of the meeting of the board of trustees of Carnegie library yesterday afternoon was the resignation of Miss Lena Holderby from the library staff, and the election of Miss T. D. Barker to succeed her.

The action of Miss Holderby is a source of regret to the members of the staff, who have presented her with a beautiful pearl pin, and to the trustees, by whom the excellence of her work was fully appreciated.

"We don't have many resignations," said Miss Rankin, librarian, after the meeting, "and we are all sorry to lose Miss Holderby, who has been connected with the institution for nine years, and was a valued member of our force."

Miss Barker, who succeeds Miss Holderby, graduated from the library training school just two years ago, and since that time has served as the assistant to Dr. Thomas M. Owen, of the department of library extension of the state of Alabama. Miss Holderby was also a graduate of the training school.

23 DOCTORS GRADUATE AT ORPHEUM THEATER

Simmons, president of the institution. The valedictory address was delivered by W. E. Payne. Music was furnished by the Orpheum orchestra, and the annual address was delivered by Colonel Robert Lee Avary.

The 1911 class numbered twenty-three, the largest in the history of the school. Representatives from every part of the union, including a student from Canada, made up the roster.

The school has just completed one of the most successful seasons of its history and prospects for next year's work are unusually bright.

To Miss Robinson.

Mrs. Robert Davis entertained delightfully at bridge yesterday afternoon at her home on West Peachtree street, the occasion an informal gathering of eight young women to meet Miss Emma Robinson, a bride-elect.

Iris and narcissi decorated the home and the daintily-appointed tea table had all its color details in white and purple, the centerpiece of iris.

The prizes, silk stockings and embroidered handkerchiefs were won by Mrs. Thomas P. Hinman and Miss Ella May Thornton.

Mrs. Davis wore a becoming foulard gown in blue and white. Miss Robinson's gown was of black and white silk, trimmed with black satin bands and her American Beauty hat was trimmed with velvet and roses.

Where French Market Coffee Won Its Fame

Over 150 years ago the old French Market at New Orleans won fame through its exquisite coffee. It was a rare treat to stop at this celebrated market and sip of the delicious beverage—the only place in America where it could be secured.

The society dames of all the Mardi Gras Balls would not consider the event complete without a cup of French Market Coffee as a "nightcap."

In the War of 1812, after Andrew Jackson's brilliant victory, he stopped at the Market House and treated his troops to French Market Coffee.

Then it could be had nowhere else. But today you may all serve it at your table—for the old French Market blend is perpetuated by

The Same Unique Hygienic Roasting Process

No matter where you live you can obtain this rare coffee blend with all the enticing aroma and natural strength preserved, for we pack it in hermetically sealed cans.

And it is untouched by human hands from the plantation to the cup. Order from your grocer today. Try some, and you'll agree there is only one French Market flavor."

SERIES OF TEAS CELEBRATE HIGH SCHOOL ALUMNAE WORK

The Alumnae Association of the Girls' High school has inaugurated a new plan of activity which is designed to take care of a much needed educational benefit, and will at the same time draw together the seventeen hundred graduates of the school for all future aims of the organization, as well as the co-operative good now imminent.

The first step toward bringing the alumnae together for renewal of acquaintance and comparison of ways and means by which the big organization may hope to effect the greatest amount of good out of co-operative endeavor will be a series of afternoon teas, individual members of the various classes since the first that were graduated having volunteered to assemble as their guests at an early date the members of their own class and in some cases of the classes before and after them. Other alumnae will combine their hospitality and will assemble their several classes together.

These entertainments will begin next week and will mean much of social enjoyment as well as of practical promise.

Mrs. S. W. McCallie will entertain on Tuesday, the 18th, from 4 to 6 o'clock at her home on Angier avenue.

Miss Nan Stephens will entertain on the same ofternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock at her home in West End, her guests to include the classes of 1901, 1902, 1903, and all members of these classes whom it has been found impossible to reach personally are cordially invited to be present.

Mrs. H. M. Beutell will entertain also on the 18th at her home on West Harris street, and the chairmen assisting her whose classes are included will be Mrs. C. J. Simmons, Mrs. W. F. Manry and Mrs. W. D. Harwell.

Mrs. A. W. Martin will entertain on Wednesday afternoon, the 19th, from 4 to 6 o'clock at her home on Moreland avenue, and she will be assisted by the chairmen of the classes, including Mrs. Howard H. McCall, Mrs. J. R. Ransom, Mrs. L. P. Stephens.

Miss Lamar Jeter, Miss Mary Smith, Miss Ethel Lounsbury and Miss Mamie Wilkes will assemble their classes for afternoon tea in the music room at the High school Wednesday, the 19th.

On the same afternoon Mrs. Arthur Merrill will entertain from 4 to 6 at her home in West End, assisted by Mrs. E. D. McDonald, Miss Julia Brenner, Miss Minnie Harmon, Mrs. W. T. Smith, Mrs. Bowles, class chairmen.

Miss Ruth De Treville and Mrs. W. J. Ozburn will entertain their classes in the High School music room on Thursday, the 20th.

Miss Claire Moran will entertain her class on Friday afternoon, the 21st, in the High School music room.

Mrs. J. Sartorius and Mrs. Lane Mitchell will combine their hospitality on Tuesday afternoon, the 18th, at the home of Mrs. Sartorius on South Pryor street.

Miss Daisy Ramsauer and Miss Gertrude Corrigan will assemble their classes together, the date not yet decided.

Miss Alice Dixon and Mrs. Fred Winburn will entertain their classes, the date and place to be announced later.

Mrs. L. S. Huntley will entertain several of the classes.

Flag Tournament.

One of the most interesting golf tournaments that the ladies of Atlanta have ever played will take place this afternoon over the East Lake course, when a "Flag Tournament" is started, play commencing at 1:30 o'clock.

To those who are not familiar with a "flag tournament," the following description will help:

The bogey for the eighteen holes of the local course is 82. To this, each contestant adds her handicap and when she has played out the number of strokes allotted she places her flag where the ball landed at the conclusion of the final stroke. For instance, if a lady has a handicap of 6, she has 88 strokes to play.

The lady that covers the most ground with the strokes allotted to her, wins the match and the handsome silver loving cup offered as a prize. Flags will be given to each of the ladies as they arrive at the first tee. The entrance fee is fifty cents.

Mrs. George Harrington will start 4 behind scratch as usual, this allowing her but 84 strokes. The other handicaps as used in the other tournaments are effective in this one.

Besides its own pleasure, the tournament will provide opportunity for valuable practice looking to the southern championship tournament in May.

Cake Walk at Yellow Ball.

At a meeting held yesterday by Mrs. Thomas B. Felder and her committee and the chairman of the floor committee it was decided to introduce a short vaudeville program as a feature of the yellow mask ball. This program will be contributed by the best professional talent at all of Atlanta's theaters.

Emma Bunting's manager has offered as a prize a box to the Emma Bunting performances to the person recognizing the clever little actress at the ball that night. She will wear the regulation yellow domino. Those desiring to have their dominoes made by the Woman's Exchange for the modest amount of 25 cents had better get their material at once and give the order. The yellow cambric is on sale at Keely Company.

The yellow costume will make the disguises the very best and it is anticipated that the ball will afford more real fun than any event of the after-Easter season.

Delicious refreshments will be served, Mrs. Fannie Lowry Porter, chairman of general entertainment, having appointed to take charge of the refreshment committee Mrs. W. A. Wimbish, Mrs. William Bailey Lamar, Mrs. W. E. Foster.

Anyone desiring information about the ball may communicate with Mrs. Thomas B. Felder or any of the board of the Woman's Exchange, Mrs. Harry C. Barnes, Mrs. Fannie Lowry Porter, Mrs. Wimbish, Mrs. Lamar and Mrs. Foster.

Nash-Raven.

The marriage of Miss Bird Nash, of Lovejoy, and Mr. James B. Raven, of Hampton, Ga., will come as a surprise to a large circle of friends. The ceremony was a very quiet affair, Rev. Smith Griffin, of Hampton, officiating.

Dinner Party.

Miss Martha Boynton will entertain at dinner Friday evening in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bonn, of San Diego, Cal., the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Field.

He is declared to be an exceptionally interesting speaker and his lecture to be exceedingly good.

All the Alumnae Association holding membership cards for 1909-10 and 1910-11 are invited, and if they have not their cards, they may secure them at the door. No admission will be charged them.

DAILY FASHION HINTS

The straw muff and the new muff hat.

By Marie Montaigne.

Straw muffs! Yes, that's just what they are, and a very thin variety of straw, at that, almost on the grass-cloth variety, but braided and very pliable and lovely in textures.

This straw muff is made of a broad strip of straw braid that is dark green in the middle and straw-color along the borders where the chiffon ruffles fall over the edges of the muff. The inner side is lined with wadded white silk and has a silk bag, with a drawing string, into which one may drop purse, card case and handkerchief, to say nothing of an occasional box of cigarettes and a vanity outfit.

These straw muffs offer bewitching possibilities in adding charming color effect to costumes for lawn parties and teas and summer outings. They may be found in all the pretty tints suitable for dressy gowns and one may have chiffon or gauze or even lace ruffles added to combine with the costume intended to be worn with the muff.

If the muff is original, what can one say of the hat? The new muff hat is really shaped like a muff with ruffles put on sidewise. The trimming may be across the front or at the corners and, of course, the muff-hat is much more elaorately trimmed than the muff which is carried with it.

Almost any woman whose purse is none too large will say that these beautiful confections are not for her. Never would she be more mistaken. Straw braid may be purchased by the yard, cut the length needed for a muff, lined and trimmed with a ruffle on the edges. Was ever anything more simple? The hat is a different matter. It would be wiser for an amateur to buy a strip of straw to match her muff and trim her hat with loops of it and with a bit of the ruffling from her muff, no matter what other trimming she may employ upon it.

WILL USE GEORGIA MARBLE IN SKYSCRAPER AT WACO

By the terms of a contract just let, Georgia marble is to be used in the interior decorations of the Amicable Life Insurance building, of Waco, Texas, the south's tallest office structure, and an Atlanta firm is to install the marble.

The building, which is twenty-two stories high, is the tallest south of New York City, and the marble work alone will cost over $50,000. To the Reeves Interior Marble Company, of this city, the contract for installing the marble has just been let.

In speaking of the matter, Alex Reeves, head of the local company, states that Georgia marble is becoming more and more popular each year. He has now under control the interior work of a number of the largest and handsomest buildings being erected in the entire south, and in the great number of these, he says, the specifications call for marble from Georgia quarries.

Among these buildings are the 22-story structure in Waco, Texas, already mentioned; the new terminal station at Memphis, which will be the handsomest in the south; the Third National Bank building and the Capital City Club building, of this city; the First National Bank building, of Birmingham, Ala.; Hamilton National Bank building, of Chattanooga, Tenn., thirteen stories; Savannah Bank and Trust building, Savannah, fifteen stories; Hillyer Trust Company's building, of this city, ten stories, and a number of other smaller structures in different sections of the country.

BORN UNDER UNLUCKY STAR J. W. WELLS INJURED AGAIN

J. W. Wells, aged 27, of 143 Hunnicutt street, a lineman for the Southern Bell Company, was found in an unconscious condition Tuesday morning just outside the yards of the Southern railway depot at Helena, Ga. He was badly bruised up and a telegram, received by his parents here, states he is in a critical condition.

It seems, from reports received, that Wells fell from an outgoing passenger train some time in the night. He was discovered at 6 o'clock by passersby. He was removed to a hotel, where medical attention was received.

This accident brings to light a series of mishaps and misfortunes which have befallen Wells since the age of eighteen.

For years young Wells has seemingly borne a charmed life. On the records of hospitals, here and elsewhere, his name is frequently found, with the cause of his presence assigned as accidents, injuries confined to broken limbs and bruises. In one instance he was so badly cut that his life was almost despaired of.

His first accident occurred when he was only in his teens. While assisting in raising a heavy pole in Birmingham, Ala., in some unaccountable manner, several pike poles slipped, throwing the immense piece of wood upon him. The pole crashed into his right shoulder, breaking the collarbone into small bits. A few months in a Birmingham hospital resulted in almost complete recovery.

He afterwards came to Atlanta, where he was severely cut in a fight. Doctors gave up hopes of his life, but another sentence to the hospital sent him out a well man.

While on board a train in south Georgia, about three years ago, young Wells in some way fell almost directly under the car wheels. As the train was going at a rapid speed, the fall resulted in a broken leg and jolt on the head rendered him unconscious.

INTEREST STRONG IN STRIPLING CASE

Interest in the case of Thomas Edgar Stripling continues unabated, and letters for and against him are still being received by The Constitution.

The recommendation for clemency which has been made by the prison commission for the man who shot W. J. Cornett, in Harris county, fourteen years ago and escaped after a life sentence had been passed upon him will be taken up for consideration by Governor Brown Thursday morning at 11 o'clock, at which time attorneys for and against him will submit their arguments.

G. W. Ely, of Montgomery, Ala., traveling passenger agent of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, writes as follows:

"Editor Constitution: Mr. Stripling's father was in the same regiment with me during the civil war, and there was not a better soldier in the Army of Tennessee. If young Stripling is a 'chip off the old block,' he is not a murderer. I hope that Governor Brown can see his way clear to concur with the pardoning board. I was raised in Harris county, Georgia. Yours very truly,

"G. W. ELY."

A. B. Crutcher, of Madison Station, Ala., says:

"Editor Constitution: It seems to me that Stripling proceded in the wrong way to secure satisfaction."

Miss Mamie Robinson, of Greensboro, Ga., writes:

"If just men find that Stripling has repented of his sin and atoned for it in every way possible, I pray that they may be merciful to him even as God has been merciful to us. Respectfully,

"(MISS) MAMIE ROBINSON."

The Constitution has received a letter regarding the Stripling case from Tennille, Ala., which is not printed because no signature was attached.

MINERAL LADY WRITES ABOUT

The Best Tonic She Ever Used in Her Family---Cardui, the Woman's Tonic.

Mineral, Tex.,—"I have a few words to say," writes Mrs. A. J. Hale, of this place, "on the merits of Cardui as a tonic.

"I have used it in my family and have found it to be just as represented.

"It is certainly the best tonic I have ever used, and I hope that my words will lead some suffering lady to try it."

If one lady, out of the thousands who read this letter of Mrs. Hale's, will try Cardui, her letter will not have been written in vain.

Will you be that lady?

Remember you will really be trying no experiment. Cardui is a standard part of the stock of every up-to-date drug store.

It is not a new, untried, untested, laboratory chemical, manufactured alkaloid, or by-product of coal tar or other new industry.

It has been in use for half a century.

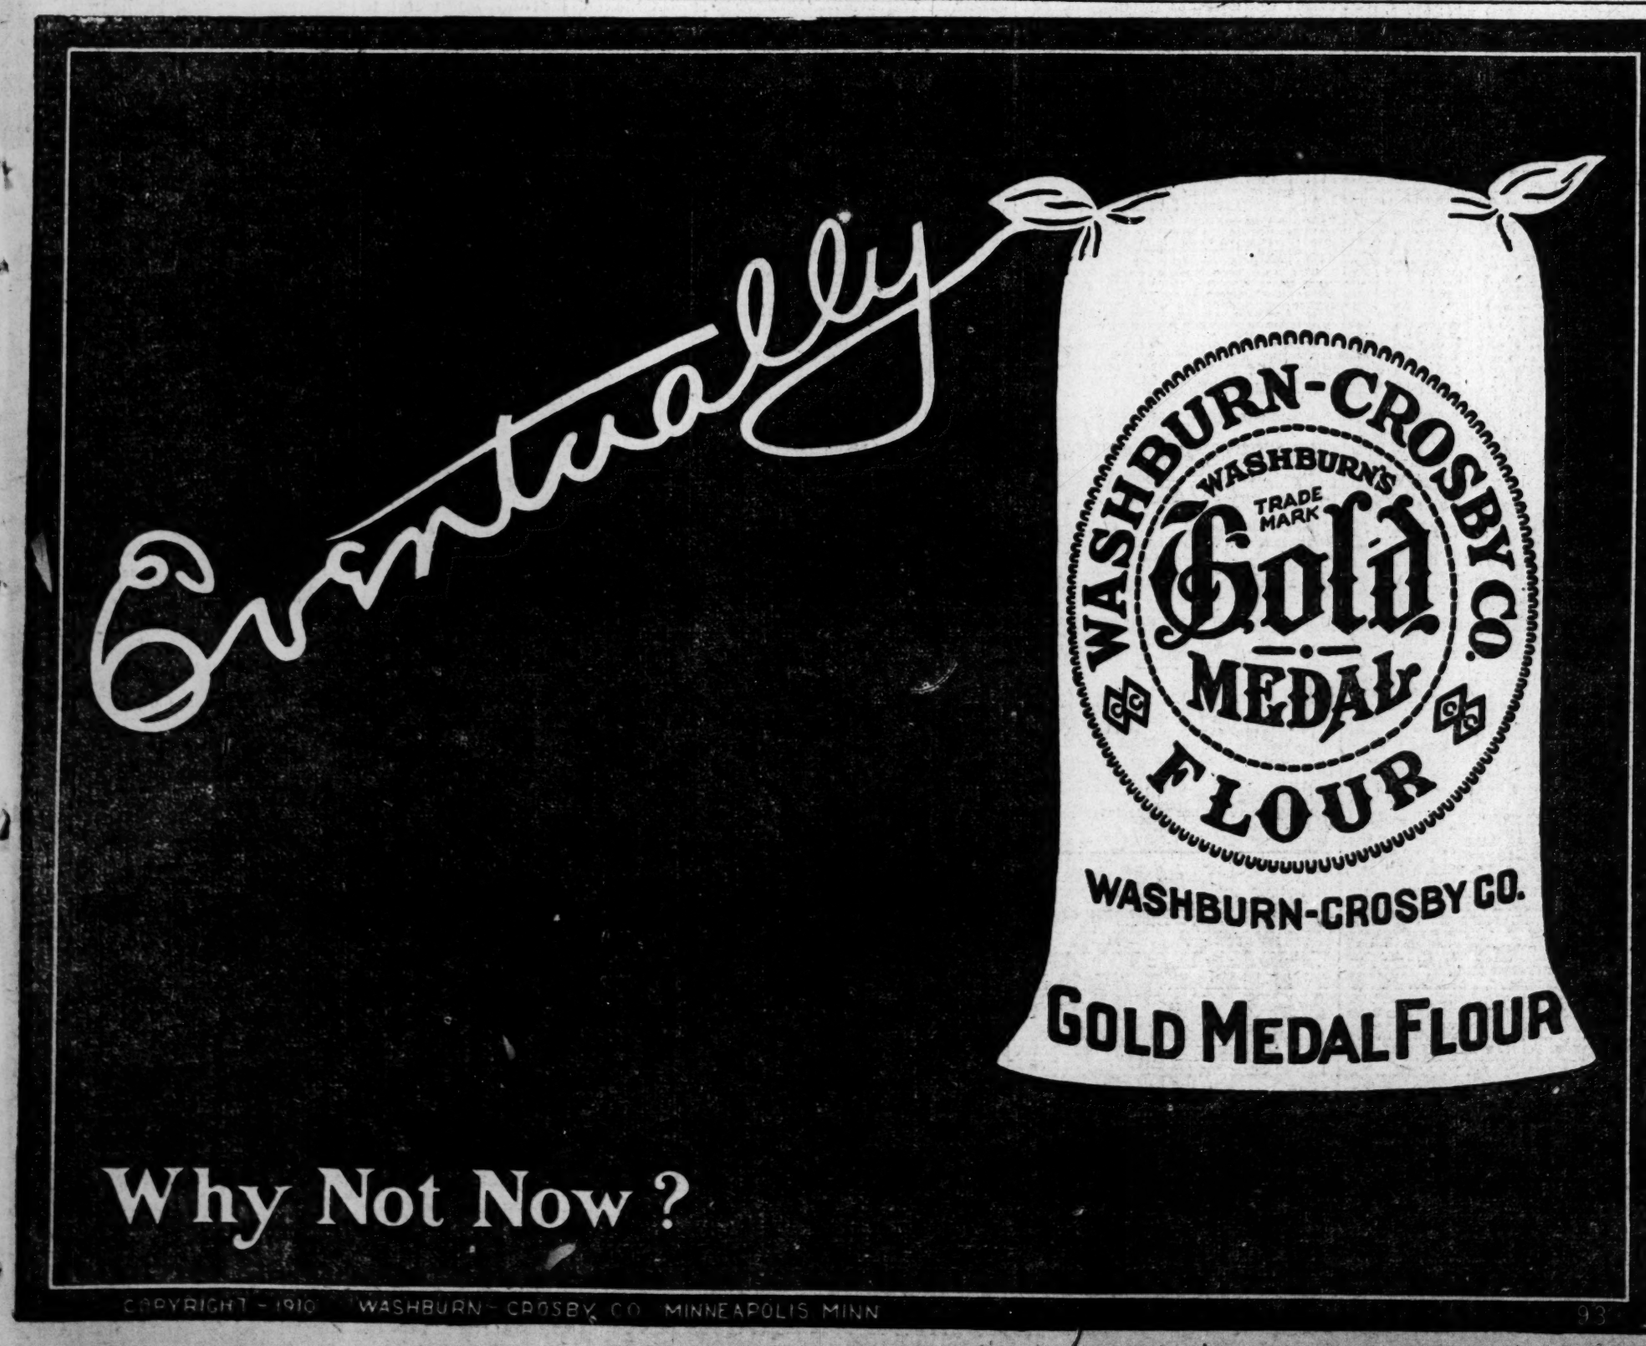

TIME has tested it and proved its real true, genuine merit—in the light, not of a laboratory test tube experiment, but of actual experience and fact.

Cardui is a proven success.

It will pay you to test it for yourself.

Get it at the nearest drug store.

NAP RUCKER HURT IN FIELDING BALL

Brooklyn's Star Twirler May Be Out of Game Indefinitely.

New York, April 11.—The Brooklyn baseball team's chances of doing big things in the National league this year may be seriously jeopardized by an injury which "Nap" Rucker, the club's star pitcher, received in a slide for first base yesterday. Rucker had fielded the ball and in attempting to beat the runner to the bag he curled his right leg under him, severely straining the tendons in his ankle.

When the accident happened, many thought the player had broken his ankle, for on attempting to rise, he fell backward with a groan. After Phalen had unlaced Rucker's shoe and massaged the ankle, the Georgia "Cracker" was able to get up and limp off the field. While, in all probability, Rucker's ankle, with careful nursing, may be all right in a few weeks, the physicians say there is grave danger that the accident may prove to be serious.

In pitching Rucker puts most of his weight on his right leg. Because of this fact it will require careful nursing to bring the injured limb around so as to stand the strain. In its weakened condition the ankle might give way under pressure and unless sufficient time is allowed for it to regain its full strength, the tendons in the ankle are likely to snap and keep the Georgian on the bench for weeks. It is practically certain that Rucker will not pitch the opening game against Boston tomorrow.

SOUTH ATLANTIC.

Savannah 5, Columbia 3.

Savannah, Ga., April 11.—By winning today's game with Columbia, 5 to 3, Savannah made a clean sweep of the four-game series.

Though outbatted, the locals were there with the safeties when most needed. Schulz pitched a steady game. He was hit oftener than Sterling, who twirled for the visitors, but by heady work in the tight places managed to keep out of serious trouble. A fluke home run by Duncan in the eighth inning gave Columbia two of its three tallies. The ball was hit sharply along the third-base line into left, and careened over and behind the lower end of the bleachers, carrying it out of the sight of the umpire. A running catch by Pelkey in the first inning saved two runs for the homers. The score:

Jacksonville, Fla., April 11.—Jacksonville and Columbus broke even in today's doubleheader, the visitors taking the first and the locals the second. In the opener the visitors hit timely and hard, and had little trouble in winning. The locals also hit hard in the opener, but the hits were of the scattered kind. Columbus played ragged ball in the second game, and it was won easily. A feature of the first game was a home run to deep center by Hille, of the visitors. The scores:

WHITE MAN'S HOPE FOUND AT BOSTON

Boston, Mass., April 11.—Another possible "white man's hope" was uncovered in the opinion of many persons at the national amateur boxing championship tournament at Mechanics' Hall tonight when John Severino, a 200-pound member of the Armory A. A., of Boston, won the heavyweight championship by disposing of Joseph Burk Cox, also of Boston, in fifty-six seconds with a sledgehammer right. It had required only two rounds for him to put away T. J. Dorsey, of the Irish-American A. C., New York, in the semi-finale. Both were knockouts.

Warren D. Barbour, son of a New York millionaire, did not appear to defend his championship award gained in his class last year.

Of the other half dozen championships awarded that for the 105-pound class probably produced the next best fighter of the evening in Johnny Fallon, a Boston messenger boy.

In the 145-pound class, after two rounds of stiff exchanges, Ted Hodgson, of Somerville, a New England champion, was laid low by John Fisher, of New York.

FRANK ALLEN TWIRLED NINE SHUT-OUT GAMES

During the last Southern League season Frank Allen, the Memphis pitcher, had the honor of twirling the most number of shut-outs, nine being placed to his credit in the win column. Allen shut Atlanta out four times, Birmingham once, Nashville once, Montgomery once and Mobile twice.

Theodore Breitenstein, of New Orleans, and Charley Fritz, of Memphis, come second, with seven each. Fisher, of Atlanta; Case, of Nashville, and Hess, of New Orleans, are tied for third, with six each.

BEST TEN-YEAR MARK BY PELS

Atlanta Stands Second and Memphis Third in Rank.

With the Southern League ready to open its eleventh season, some dope on the teams for the past ten seasons would hardly be amiss.

New Orleans has the best record in games won and lost for ten seasons with an average of .553. Atlanta is but 2 points behind with .551 and Memphis is third.

Here are the figures:

FLAG TOURNAMENT FOR THE LADIES

This afternoon over the East Lake course, the ladies of Atlanta will have a flag tournament, the first tournament of this kind that they have ever attempted to hold, play starting at 1:30 o'clock, if the weather is clear.

This tournament should be the most interesting event that the ladies have ever had and as it is a handicap match as the other ladies' tourneys have been, the interest is going to be even more marked.

For the benefit of those who do not know what a flag tournament is, the following definition may enlighten them:

The bogey of the local course for 18 holes is 82. Each lady will add to this bogey her handicap. For instance, if she has a handicap of six, this allows her 88 total strokes. When she has played her eighth-eighth stroke, she places her flag where the ball landed. The lady, who, with her total number of strokes covers the most ground, wins the tournament. Each lady will be given a flag upon her arrival at the club house. The entrance fee will be fifty cents each. Every hole will be played from the regular tee with the exception of the Lake No. 2.

A handsome silver cup will be awarded to the lady winning the tournament.

THREE NO-HIT GAMES DURING LAST SEASON

Five One-Hit Games and Eleven To-Hit Games.

There were three no-hit games during the 1910 season of the Southern League. Paige, of New Orleans, won a seven-inning, no-hit, no-run game from Mobile, with Johnny Fisher pitching against him.

Harry Covaleskie, of Birmingham, twirled a nine-inning game against Chattanooga, allowing no runs and no hits, with Al Demaree twirling against him.

Johnny Fisher, of Mobile, twirled a no-hit, no-run game against Chattanooga, with Eddie Selver the opposing twirler.

One-hit games were twirled by Fisher, Johns and Keiber, of Atlanta; Bernard, of Nashville, and Klawitter, of Memphis.

WASHINGTON MAY DRAFT MANAGER OTTO JORDAN

Washington, April 11.—(Special.)—It is understood here that Manager James McAleer, of the Washington club, is mighty sweet on Manager Jordan, of the Atlanta team, who plays second base for that club.

McAleer is reported as saying that he may draft the Atlanta mogul at the close of the present Southern League season.

"This fellow Jordan is a better fielder than the majority of the second basemen in the big leagues today," said Manager McAleer, in a fanning bee. "He makes all his chances look easy, and covers a world of ground. He is a heady base-runner, and for his speed, as good as any in the business. He also hits about as well as the average second-sacker."

WHO WILL TWIRL OPENING GAME?

That's a question that has been asked several times this week, and to figure out the right man is but a guess at the best, Manager Jordan being reticent on the subject, and even the players themselves not sure of who the man will be.

But the logical choice seems to be Harold Johns, if he signs his contract before the opener. And Harold in good shape is good enough to beat the Lookouts any old day. Johns in his workouts this year appears to have "something" that he never had before.

If Johns is not "right," then the next choice will be either George Crabbe or "Ollie" Britton. Both are in good shape, and working nicely.

Charley Miller will probably catch the opening game—that is, if his thumb does not give him any further trouble. He has experienced no trouble with it since he has taken off the bandage, and it looks like he will be behind the bat. With Miller behind the plate, it assures the Crackers of the best thrower in the league, a speedy man and a good hitter in the game. If he does not get in, Wells is second choice for the opening game. The little ex-Savannah lad is in great shape, and has endeared himself to the hearts of the local fans by his work. Ulrich is not in shape enough to catch the opener, though he is coming around fast.

O'Dell at third, Walker at short, Jordan at second and Sykes at first is the way the infield will line-up.

Though the outfield is an uncertainty, it looks like Moran in left, Corbin in center and Watson in right will be the outfield for Saturday, and a good combination that will be, too.

YELLOW JACKETS ROUNDING TO FORM

By R. H. Flournoy.

Tech Flats, April 11.—(Special.)—After the shaking up the team received last Friday they are now hard at work preparing to show Mercer that Friday's game was a mistake and a misdeal.

Almost every man on the team is perfectly confident that had the game been pulled off Saturday Tech would have won. F. Montague and S. Holland will be off most of the week on account of class work, but it is hoped and expected that they will be back by time to go to Macon.

At first it was thought that it would be impossible to play the game in Macon Friday and Saturday, but everything has been straightened out and the game will come off on scheduled time.

There is a movement among the students to get a special train to attend the Saturday's game. Permission has been granted by the faculty and the only thing necessary is to raise a hundred men.

Edgar Montague is back in his regular position, and this adds considerable hope to the team, as "Monty" is a good fielder, base-runner and is not lost on the batting list. McLin is filling F. Montague's position behind the bat and he is improving fast in every way. McLin is one of the heaviest hitters on the squad and seems to meet all twirlers alike.

TAFT WILL TOSS OPENING BALL

Washington, April 11.—President Taft will open the baseball season tomorrow by tossing the "sphere" from his box in the new American League park here for the initial contest between the Boston and Washington teams.

The president's keen interest in the national game will draw him to many games this season, but he still is a strong devotee of golf. On Saturday he will have his first game of the spring here over the new Chevy Chase links.

Chicken fanciers, don't fail to read poultry column in today's issue.

NEW SWIMMING RECORD ESTABLISHED BY DANIELS

New York, April 11.—C. Daniels, the world's champion amateur swimmer, succeeded in his effort to establish a new record for the 200 metres swim, clipping two-fifths of a second from the former world's figure at the New York A. C. natatorium tonight.

L. B. Goodwin, also of the New York A. C., furnished the pace for half the distance, then allowed Daniels to finish alone. Daniels' time was 2 minutes 28 seconds.

DETROIT SIGNS SUGDEN TO COACH IN 1912

Detroit, April 11.—President Navin, of the Detroit baseball club, has announced that he has signed Joe Sugden to a 1912 contract to go south with the team and coach the young pitchers, as he did this spring, and later go on the road as scout. Navin tried to get Sugden for the remainder of the year, but the veteran could not get his release from the Newcastle club.

Jay Kirke, second baseman, who has been twice tried out by Manager Hugh Jennings, has been sold to New Orleans. It is understood that instead of cash, president Navin gets first pick of the New Orleans players next fall.

Kennedy and Thompson Draw.

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 11.—Fighting Charley Kennedy, of New York, and Roe Thompson, the Cincinnati welterweight, fought eight fast rounds to a draw tonight before the Chattanooga Athletic Club. The two clever welterweights were evening matched, and put up a snappy, clean fight.

MAJOR LEAGUES AT THE BARRIER

New York, April 11.—Of the eight cities which have been selected for the opening games in the major league baseball season tomorrow, only one is reasonably sure of fair weather. According to messages received here tonight briefly predicting the local probabilities, Boston alone is looking for a clear sky. With this exception conditions are considered as settled.

The Detroit fans are most in fear of showers for the opening tomorrow afternoon. Cincinnati and Chicago also look for light showers, and there are "possibilities" of rain in Washington, Philadelphia and New York. St. Louis reports rain tonight with a cloudy aftermath probable tomorrow.

Notwithstanding the interference which the skies may threaten, the day is expected to be a warm one in every city except Boston, where the promise of clear skies is discounted by predictions for a probably cool day.

The opening games are:

Brooklyn at Boston.
Philadelphia at New York.
Pittsburg at Cincinnati.
St. Louis at Chicago.

New York at Philadelphia.
Boston at Washington.
Chicago at Detroit.
Cleveland at St. Louis.

Dick's Dopum

Someone certainly put one over on both of our afternoon contemporaries, or they put one over on themselves on Tuesday afternoon.

Either some enterprising syndicate unloaded the same advance story on the opening of the big leagues for release on the same date, or their ever present pair of scissors clipped at the same time.

At any rate, whatever is the answer, they both had not only the same story on the opening of both of the major leagues, including such things as "purblind reader," "ringtailed fan," etc. (whatever they are), but the same cut, Wagner, Cobb and Mathewson as their feature cut of the day.

It was too good for us to let pass unnoticed. If it was a syndicate article, wonder which one of them will do the paying. If it was the scissors, nuf ced. Stung!

MOUNTED BULL MOOSE FOR CHAS. COMISKEY

Duluth, Minn., April 11.—The Duluth friends of Charles A. Comiskey, president of the White Sox, have prepared to present him with a mounted bull moose, one of the finest specimens ever seen in the northwest. The moose will be taken to Chicago by a delegation of Duluth men. The men will leave for Chicago the night of April 19, and will attend the opening game between Chicago and Detroit the following day.

PFEISTER AND RICHIE SIGN WITH THE CUBS

Chicago, April 11.—Pitchers Pfeister and Richie, the last hold-outs on the Chicago Nationals, signed contracts today. Both received slight advances in salary.

TWO CHINKS PLAY FOOTBALL AT YALE

Sunday Baseball for Ohio.

Columbus, Ohio, April 11.—The senate today passed two Sunday baseball bills, both of which have gone through the house. One knocks Sunday baseball games from forbidden amusements and the other gives city councils authority to say whether Sunday games shall be permitted. A bill passed a year ago providing for local option in cities on Sunday baseball was vetoed by Governor Harmon.

Martina "Canned."

New Orleans, April 11.—(Special.)—Joe Martina has been released to Yazoo City, in the Cotton States League, by New Orleans. Martina was with Savannah, in the Sally League, last season, and got a try-out with Atlanta in the spring of 1910.

Coulon v. McGovern.

Chicago, April 11.—The Johnny Coulen-Phil McGovern bout at Kenosha on April 20, which has been hanging fire for the last week, was finally closed yesterday. The managers of the two principals and the matchmaker for the Badger Club met here and completed arrangements for the battle, which will be scheduled for the ten-round route, no decision.

Children's Bureau Proposed.

Washington, April 11.—A "children's bureau" to be established in the department of commerce and labor, is provided for in a bill introduced in the house today. The bureau is designed to investigate all matters pertaining to child welfare.

MADE NEW HIGH RECORD EARLY IN THE SESSION

But Later the Cotton Market Became Nervous and Closed at Decline.

New York, April 11.—After making new high records for the movement early today the cotton market became very nervous and unsettled, with the close steady at a net decline of 4@9 points on all positions except August, which was 4 points net higher.

The opening was steady at a decline of 4 points to an advance of 9 points, summer and early fall months being relatively firm on a continuation of the covering movement, while other position responded to lower cables than expected. There was heavy buying at the start, and during the first few minutes all active positions sold higher, with May touching 14.72 and July 14.65, or about 5 points over the closing figures of last night, but at this level there was heavy realizing and the market soon weakened. One of the leading bull brokers was credited with selling at least 40,000 bales of May before the end of the first hour, and with offerings from this source continuing, May eased off to 14.57, or 10 points under the closing figures of last night. July showed a similar loss, and the new crop months also sold some 10 to 12 points net lower, but August remained relatively firm, and the general list rallied from the lowest in the late trading on covering and buying of July by one of the early heavy sellers of May. The character of the trading appeared to confuse local sentiment, and after the close tonight it was estimated that one of the old bull leaders had liquidated at least 150,000 bales, chiefly in the way of May contracts during the past three or four days. Shorts have been very active buyers, and at the narrowing May-July difference of today leading spot interests were good buyers of the spring month.

Receipts at the ports today, 12,940 bales, against 8,599 last week, and 17,979 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 4,802 bales, against 6,428 last year, and at Houston, 1,300 bales, against 2,780 last year.

Spot cotton closed quiet, 5 points lower; middling uplands, 14.70; middling gulf, 14.95; no sales.

TRUCK FARM—Five miles of center of city; 28 acres rich land; nice 4-room residence, ¾ mile of car line. $4,000. Good terms. If you understand your business, you will make this much in 12 months, with a good garden and chicken farm.

It has been used for a dairy, and the land is highly fertilized. It is within ¼ mile of the city limits, and it looks like this is cheap. The owner wants to sell. Has two ordinary houses and plenty of barns, etc.

"That's the Way They All Do."

(From The Detroit News-Tribune.)

An enthusiastic citizen about to visit Europe was rejoicing over the fact and the pleasure to come.

"How delightful it will be," he said to his wife, "to tread the bounding billows and inhale the invigorating oxygen of the sea, the sea, the boundless sea! I long to see it—to breathe in great drafts of life giving air. I shall want to stand every moment on the prow of the steamer with my mouth open"—

"You probably will, dear," interrupted his wife encouragingly. "That's the way all the ocean travelers do."

Puffs.

(From The Boston Transcript.)

"Miss Footlittle's reputation and her complexion are very much alike."

"Meaning that they are both brilliant, eh?"

"No; they are both made with a puff."

By Jos. Wardin.

Some flocks are neve rthrifty. Disease seems to appear without apparent cause, and the slightest exposure leads to roup or something allied to it. I have known whole flocks to escape roup when all the birds belonging to a near neighbor were affected. Consumption, scrofula, bronchitis, asthma, and such diseases, are surely transmitted to the offsprihg of fowls as in cases of animals. There is not enough attention given the selection of fowls with the view of preventing disease and avoiding the liability of hereditary transmission.

When roup appears in a flock, it denotes some organic weakness, and if it spreads rapidly to all the members of the flock, the indication is that the members are of the same family, and more readily susceptible to the disease than some other flocks. It is safer to avoid using any birds for breeding purposes that have at any time been sick with a contagious disease, and by so doing the flock will in a few years be hardy, and the difficulties lessened.

How to keep the boys on the farm. I will venture to assert that if each boy is given a flock of fowls, if only bantams, and he alone have the management, and the receipts—a very important adjunct—the flock of fowls will cause the boy to take an interest in farming from the start. Let him become accustomed to the breed, and he will soon learn the points of all breeds. And he will not stop there; he will aim to know the breeds of cattle, sheep, horses and hogs. He will look forward to the exhibitions of the county fairs, and strive to win prizes. He will have a love for the farm bred in him from the start, and when he is a man he will yearn for the happy days spent on the farm, and will get back to it if he can, should he be induced away. When one becomes interested in poultry on the farm, he becomes educated to an interest in everything else. As soon as your boy can manage them, give him a few bantams, and after he is older, start him with some pure breed of standard size. It is the best plan for teaching the boy to remain on the farm.

When using whitewash, apply it as hot as it can be applied; have it thick, so as to cover the cracks as much as possible. Whitewash will destroy mites, if put on the walls properly; but the thin, watery whitewash usually applied does but little service. In addition to its advantages in destroying mites, it also makes the interior of the poultry house light and cheerful, as well as destroying germs of disease. A gill of crude carbolic acid to every gallon of whitewash will render it more efficient as a disinfectant. The whitewash for the outside of the house should be made thin, and two or three coats applied.

A lady club member asks me to tell her, quick, how to feed young ducks, as she expects a hatch off in a few days. The first week feed ducklings rolled oats and bread crumbs, mixed and moistened with milk or scalding hot water. When sufficiently cool, give it to them. After the first week, give a morning mash of equal parts of rolled oats, bran, corn meal and middlings. Scald and mix finely-cut grass, a little sand to every feed of mash, as it aids digestion. As they grow older, the meat scrap, corn meal and middlings can be increased in the mash. Do not feed whole grain. Keep drinking water before them from the start. If on a hot day the supply of water should have run out, do not give a fresh lot until the ducklings have been fed, for to allow them water on an empty stomach very often develops fatal cases of giddiness. Equal parts (by measurement) of bran, ground oats, middlings and corn meal, mixed with green feed, meat scrap and sand, make a very good mash to feed twice a day. Always keep a trough of cracked oyster shells within reach of grown ducks. It is remarkable how many cracked shells they will eat, and it is equally remarkable what a difference feeding shells makes in the laying ducks. Do not overfeed; give only what they will eat up clean, and see that they always have water to drink.

According to a circular letter just received by me, the great Georgia state fair will be held at Macon, Ga., October 10-20, 1911. Will you be there with your chickens? Let all make an effort to have at least a trio (3) or pen (5) of birds on exhibition at this show, and all who can try and accompany their birds and learn all they can about showing and judging. Will you be there?

Exchange.

M. A. Hicks, Mason, Ala., has an incubator, 100-egg capacity, to exchange for White Irpingtons or Indian Runner ducks.

Mrs. S. F. Meek, Dallas, Ga., R. 7, will exchange Imperial White Pekin ducks for pure bred single comb White Leghorns or White Wyandottes.

J. W. Stokes, Jasper, Ga., has for exchange pure bred White Leghorn chickens, for a larger breed, nothing but pure bred wanted.

G. L. Johnson, Liberty, S. C., R. 2, would like to hear from someone who has Barred Plymouth Rocks or White Wyandottes.

J. N. Lewis, Bremen, Ga., R. 1, has one fine male Scotch collie pup, 10 months old, to exchange for thoroughbred poultry or good watch. Write what you have.

R. L. Chatlin, Section, Ala., would like to exchange ginseng roots and seed for Brown Leghorn chickens. Send stamp for reply.

Johnnie Hollman, Kennedy, Ala., R. 1, Box 12, wants to exchange unknown peas for a pair, hen and cock, of pure bred Brown Leghorns.

Mrs. E. King, Daingerfield, Texas.—I live on a farm and am not situated so I can pen my chickens through the moulting period, and would like to have your ideas:

1. What do you think of a cross between the Wyandottes, Buff and Brown Leghorns? As the Wyandotte hens seemed to be lazy and clumsy, and not very good layers, I thought to mix them would be a good idea, but I feel sure that you can tell me. When I kill and dress one for the table their gizzard would be covered with fat. This was through the summer months, and I didn't feed anything except a few crumbs from the table.

2. What is the cause of my Wyandottes' legs and feet being unnaturally rough and scaly? It seems that the natural scales of the legs are enlarged and loose, and sometimes bleed. They seem to be well these scales? They seem to be well otherwise. The roosters' feet are worse than the hens'. My full blood rooster tickles the children sometimes, as he walks as if he was trying to slip up on some one. Please tell me what the trouble is and what to do.

3. Is nux vomica good for chickens, both old and young? Some folks tell me if I feed them nux vomica occasionally it will rid them of chicken fleas, and that it is good for indigestion. Now, Uncle Joe, I am not financially able to do a chicken business on a large scale; am just trying to raise plenty for home consumption and some for market sometimes.

4. Is there really any danger in feeding little chicks dampened cornmeal?

5. Do you treat little ducks the same as little chickens, not giving them any food for three days? Well, I will take my seat away back over here with the mixed breeders, and I promise to be quiet and learn all I can.

Answer—The new subscriber hailing from the state of big things is welcome to a seat among the mixed breeders. If I can read between the lines, she will soon be asking for a seat with the standard-bred raisers. I just don't like the crossing of two good breeds of chickens. In crossing non-setters with setters it sometimes happens that you get a lot of poor setters, thus spoiling two good breeds. I never knew Wyandottes were lazy, but on the contrary, thought they were hustlers. Perhaps you haven't the right kind—the good kind—the kind that lay well. Don't mix your fowls; keep them pure if you can.

2. Scaly leg is the cause of your chickens' rough legs. It's a parasite under the scale. Dip the legs and feet in kerosene oil two or three times, and apply for a week or two equal parts of lard and kerosene oil. It can be cured in about two weeks.

3. Nux vomica, a little of it, fed to chickens two or three times a week will not only keep them in good condition, but will drive away lice.

4. Damp cornmeal has killed as many chickens as roup or gapes.

5. You can feed little ducklings after the first day.

Mrs. ——, Kilmichael, Miss.—My chicks grew all O. K. till about ten days old, then their wing feathers begin to grow and chick draws up, and in a day or two they are dead. I usually lose half or more that I have hatched. Now, Uncle Joe, all that have trouble similar to this, you say 'tis caused by lice or mites, but I have no mites, and if I do not dust my hens while setting with insect powder, I grease them when I take them off. I turn every feather up the wrong way and rub the grease on with my finger, and not pile it on to grease the little ones too much. I usually feed them dry eggbread and fine chopped corn. Of course they have free range and plenty of water. Now, Uncle Joe, tell me what you feed your chicks on. How often do you feed them? My neighbors that have success tell me they feed only twice a day, after they are turned out, about three days old, and some of them never feed anything but raw meal made in a dough.

I have mostly Silver Lace Wyandottes or part breed; have tried very hard to get full blood, but looks like 'tis impossible. Last year I ordered two settings of eggs; the first only one chick hatched, the next eight hatched, but only raised one. I have ordered two more settings. This is why I come to ask you to tell me how to manage them. I have a yard fenced off for my little chicks. A shelter to put my coops under, and I keep them clean and give pure water. I read once where you said the Wyandotte is the best all-round fowl for the farm, but I believe you have changed your mind, but you didn't make me change mine. I have tried a number of kinds. Once had the "Dottes," but did not realize their value till they were most run out, and got every kind I could till I had most all kinds. But, Uncle Joe, I tell you I would not have a chicken in my yard if I could get no other than the Reds. I took a notion for them once, bought some eggs and later bought a nice lot of pullets and five roosters, and, Uncle Joe, not an egg all fall and winter till late spring, and the roosters paid no attention to anything except my dining room, and they all came in the house, so I decided they and I could not stay in the same house. As they were determined to stay in mine I sold them and bought as good as I could get of the S. L. W., and I tell you when I was selling seven and eight dozen eggs in a week through the winter, all my neighbors had Reds and had not seen an egg since midsummer till spring. Now, don't you think I have my mind on a clear point? Well, I do, so if you will tell me what to feed chickens unless I buy it and how often is their trouble, I'll be gone and not trouble you any more this season.

Answer.—The first ten days of a chick's life is the critical period. At that time they are subject to all sorts of ailments, and on the management at this time will depend largely the success or failure of the venture. When young chicks are highly fed early in the game they may develop leg weakness and then wing feathers grow rapidly and it's a peculiar thing that it is usually the thriftiest that develop these features. Where the wings grow out long and droop it's useless to cut them off for the stubs will continue to grow just the same. Better pull the three largest ones out. After forty-eight hours I feed my chicks on oatflake bread crumbs (stale) and hard-boiled eggs, feed them this for the first three or four days, then on finely cracked corn, oats, wheat, millet, meat scraps and granulate dry bone, mix this together and keep it in hoppers where they can get at it at all times. In this way they will not gouge themselves.

No, I still stick to it: but if I was on a farm and could only keep one breed of chickens the White Wyandottes would be that chicken. Good for eggs, meat, mothers, sitters and pretty to look at.

Mrs. Sue Stone, R. 1, Davidsville, Ga.—As I received so many replies to my exchange offer in The Constitution, will take this method of answering all. Now, I received over fifty letters and postcards in three days, and could not answer all, however, I answered all who sent postage. I received some splendid offers and received all eggs I wanted. Many thanks to The Constitution. But I have no more turkey eggs to exchange; have engaged more now than I wanted to get rid of this spring.

I am a real chicken lover but have never tried thoroughbred poultry before and am going to try R. I. Reds and Indian Runner ducks, which I have exchanged for through your valuable paper and will write you this fall how I have succeeded.

I would not do without The Constitution now, no way, as Uncle Joe has got to writing three times a week and right now his talks are a great help to me in the chicken business, as I am having fewer deaths amongst my young chicks than I ever had, and I believe it is due to Uncle Joe's plan of feeding, as I have been trying to take his advice to the letter as far as conditions would permit. Now, I will close. Some of you sisters or Uncle Joe give us a good letter on the care and raising of ducks. I am getting a little cranky on Reds and ducks.

Answer—You will find a short article on feeding young ducks at the head of this colmun.

Mrs. Noble, Kerens, Texas.—I believe in letting everyone do their own choosing in everything, even in their fancy for chickens, but I have been raising Barred Rocks now for about five years. Never have to buy any eggs, except when I send to some fine poultry yard for a setting to keep mine graded up to the best. I have one setting now that I bought of Davis & Griswold, Waco, Texas. I expect them to hatch next Friday, and am anxious to see how good a hatch I will get. I bought a fine fooster from L. L. Jeter, Italy, Texas; paid $3.50 for him, and he is a beauty. There hasn't been a time in the whole five years of my raising these Rocks that I did not have nice, large, yellow-legged friers until now, and I want to tell Uncle Joe my trouble and see if he can help me. My chickens grow off beautifully until they are a month or six weeks old, and I will find one with one eye closed. They are not sick, nor does the eye look sore, but it will be watery, then in a day or two it will run corruption; then the other eye will become affected, and they will go entirely blind and die. They also act like they are frightened. I believe it is a brain affection. I know it is different to anything I ever saw. They are not droopy in that condition. Can you, Uncle Joe, or any reader of the chicken page, give me any advice on the subject? I am so anxious to get rid of this complaint. I forgot to mention that I have fifty-six little chickens, five hens setting, have gathered 450 eggs in three weeks, have forty hens, and have set two hens for a "Rhode Island Red" sister. Her hens won't set at the proper time.

Answer—There are several causes for your chicks having sore eyes—overheating, dust, dampness or climatic changes.

Symptoms—An apparent watering of the eyes, which, if not attended to timely, will turn to ulcerations.

The treatment is to wash the eyes with castile soap and water, and give sulphur in the food, and wash the eyes with diluted sulphate of lead.

all acreage in Fulton county will some day become either city or suburban property.

There is more money to be made in buying acreage than in buying city lots or buildings. To illustrate, I can show you 100 acres for $10,000, or less, that will bring $50,000 in a few years.

Also some good tracts on railroads a little more remote now, but their day is coming for industrial sites.

Buy an apple orchard and summer home in North Georgia. The peach crop is almost a total loss, but this year's apple crop promises to be great.

Apples are dependable. The North Georgia apple crop never fails and it pays $100 to $500 per acre.

Orchards from $500 up.

ADVERTISING TALKS.

language all of the time, how much better advertisements they would be. How much LONGER they would live in the people's minds.

The big words and long sentences frequently employed by advertisement writers defeat the purpose of the advertisement—people don't understand them.

A haberdasher in St. Louis wrote me saying that he wanted some advice about advertising—that he was willing to spend a small amount in the newspapers—that he had a nice new line of goods—but he did not know just how to go at it.

He asked this question: Do you approve of advertising an article worth so much and then quoting a price lower than that?

I'll answer that question—"No, I do not."

Now here is a simply worded three-inch single column advertisment that I would advise my haberdasher friend to start off with:

> I want more people to know about the good Shirts, Neckwear, Hosiery, etc., that I sell.
> I am going to advertise in this space three times a week for three months—telling you each time about my merchandise.
> Today I want to mention that I have some very fine shirts that I can sell to you at
> $1.35
> on which I make my regular business profit, but they are very good shirts, and I back them up with my guarantee.
> "Your money back if they don't make good."
> Name .....
> Address .....

Then follow along in the same space with the same simply worded announcements, always using the guarantee, for three months, using at least two newspapers at a cost of about $30 a week—the price of a good salesman—and I am certain that my friend will get satisfactory results.

MEN READ ADVERTISEMENTS more than we think they do. They RESPOND to them, too, if the advertisements do not try to fool them.

Farrar and Carl Jorn.

Humperdinck's great opera, "Koenigskinder," one of the most magnificent productions ever seen on any stage in the world, will follow in order on Friday evening, April 28, as originally announced. In this cast will be Geraldine Farrar, "the Goose Girl;" Carl Jorn, a tenor, whose marvelous voice in "Lohengrin" last year won him a permanent place in the hearts of all lovers of music in the south; Otto Goritz, the famous baritone; Madame Homer, the popular contralto; Albert Reiss, the celebrated tenor, and a host of others well known in grand opera circles the world over.

Verdi's magnificent opera, "Il Trovatore," will be presented Saturday afternoon, April 29, as originally announced, with Martin, Gilly, Rappold, Homer and others equally as famous in the cast.

And "Otello" has been selected to conclude the engagement of the Metropolitan Opera Company on Saturday night, April 29. In the cast will appear Leo Slezak, a tenor who never before has been heard in the south and whose voice many critics have held rivals that of any tenor in grand opera: Pasquale Amato, a baritone, who has few equals; Andrea de Segurola, a basso who ranks with the greatest in the world, and many others.

Colonel Peel Talks.

In discussing the change in the program, Colonel W. L. Peel, president of the Atlanta Music Festival Association, under whose auspices the operas will be presented, had the following to say:

"The Metropolitan Opera Company will bring their original New York scenery, complete, together with an enormous orchestra.

"The sale of seats already indicates that the music festival this month will eclipse any similar entertainment ever given in the United States.

"It has been known for some time that Caruso was under treatment and that his voice had been affected by a severe attack of the grip; but it was hoped that he would recover sufficiently to appear in Atlanta. We have just been advised, however, that Caruso will be unable to sing for several months, and at great expense, the Metropolitan Opera Company have consented to substitute for the "Girl of the Golden West," the brilliant opera "Otello" with a magnificent cast, including such well-known singers as Slezak, Amato, Alda, Claesseus and De Segurola. This opera together with Farrar and Jorn in "Koenigskinder," which has thrilled New York the past season; Gioconda, with Martin, Amato, Destinn and Homer, and "Trovatore," with a cast including such artists as Martin, Gilly, Rappold and Homer, makes up the most brilliant program ever sung in four successive performances.

"Atlanta is indeed to be congratulated that the Music Festival Association has been able to consummate this arrangement. The operas of Gioconda and Koenigskinder have never been sung in the south before; and with "Trovatore," and "Otello," sung by the cast above mentioned, there will be enjoyed the greatest musical treat that this section of the country has ever witnessed."

FOR RECIPROCITY AND LONG FREE LIST

Kern, of Indiana, and Hitchcock, of Nebraska.

In the caucus there was no opposition to Canadian reciprocity, and no change or amendment to the bill as presented by Chairman Underwood, of the house ways and means committee, was offered by any of those present at the caucus.

On many of the products put on the free list the present tariff is practically prohibitive and there are few importations of them on that account. It is impossible for this reason to estimate what the difference will all amount to by putting them on the free list.

Wanted a Free List Rider.

In the debate which followed Chairman Underwood's presentation of the general plan a spirited disposition developed on the part of several members to demand that the Canadian reciprocity bill and the free list bill be combined. Representatives Rucker, of Colorado, and Sherley, of Kentucky, led in these efforts to override the majority, but the ways and means program was generously supported.

It is probable that the Canadian bill will be introduced Thursday. The introduction of this bill and the farmers' free list bill as caucus measures will not stand in the way of immediate introduction of the three important measures—popular election of senators, publicity before election of campaign contributions and statehood for Arizona and New Mexico. These are not to be treated as caucus measures, but will come in as party bills and will be taken up for action as soon as they can be reported from their respective committees.

Wool and Cotton Schedules.

Another caucus is to be held to debate the revision of the wool and cotton schedules to be taken up in the house following the passage of the reciprocity and free list bills.

The caucus added a provision to the Underwood reciprocity bill calling on the president to continue negotiations with Canada with a view to establishing further reciprocal trade relations. Mr. Fitzgerald, of New York, fought this provision, but he was voted down.

mittee be appointed from this commission to act with a committee of council with a view of making a full report on the whole question.

The committee named is as follows: McEachern, Fain, Marbut, Smith and Chairman Moon, ex-officio.

Approved by Recorder.

The plan to sell the police barracks and establish a central station at the city hall and sub-stations in different parts of the city is meeting with the approval and indorsement of nearly all city officials. It is believed the plan is feasible, and that it will not only be beneficial to the public because of the convenience of having a central police station in the center of the city, but will give the city a much more efficient police service.

Recorder Nash R. Broyles stated Tuesday morning that the removal of the police court was greatly desired.

"The present police station," he said, "is out of the way and badly located as to the convenience of those who have to attend my court. This is especially true of lady witnesses who do not wish to walk on Decatur street. Besides this, the noise from the street car power plant is very annoying and in summer time makes it almost impossible for me to conduct my court. I believe that a central police station can easily be located at the city hall, and sucha move would in my opinion be one of the very best things the city government could do at this time."

Desired by Juvenile Court.

Probation Officer James G. Gloer says the police barracks should be moved on account of the juvenile court.

"The juvenile court," he states, "is often attended by little girls and boys, most of whom are school children, and they find it inconvenient to visit the police barracks at its present location. I want, on account of the little children, to add my voice, among others, in the plea for a central police station at the new city hall."

The judge who had charge of the case asserts that the fault in the delay lies with the New York authorities. While waiting for a confirmation of his identity the judge said Mr. Brandreth was subjected to the most lenient rule of the prison.

The Brussels, newspapers comment this evening in strong terms. The Etoile Belgen says it is a shame that such an incident is possible in Belgium, and that it is probable this will lead to a reform in the law of vagrancy.

Wife Didn't Know of Husband's Plight

New York, April 11.—The corporation directory names Franklyn Brandreth as president of the Allcock Manufacturing Company and Daubney Brandreth as a director, but does not mention Ralph C. Brandreth. Guy S. Brandreth, a brother of Ralph, lives at Short Hills, N. J., but could not be reached tonight.

Mrs. Ralph C. Brandreth, who lives at Belleport, L. I., said today that she had not seen her husband for months and did not know of his whereabouts. Mrs. Brandreth was Miss Edith C. Armstrong before her marriage two years ago. The wedding ceremony was performed while both she and Brandreth were swathed in bandages as a result of an automobile accident near Monroe, N. Y.

Young Brandreth's mother also declared today that she knew nothing of his whereabouts or activities.

Gompers Is Pleased.

Washington, April 11.—Although Samuel Gompers would make no formal statement over the decision of the United States circuit court yesterday in the Danbury hat case, he made public a telegram which he sent to Alton B. Parker, of counsel for the labor men. Among other things President Gompers said:

"The decision will have a far-reaching and steadying influence in the cause of justice and right."
